STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OPPOSES CHANGE

Poll Of Members Shows Sentiment Against Change

Eighty-Seven Per Cent Oppose Revision Of Constitution At This Time

LEADERS URGING PROJECT'S DEFEAT

Decision Arrived At After A Referendum Of Members Throughout State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Pennsylvania's state Chamber of Commerce today stood "decisively opposed" to calling a convention for constitutional revision next December.

Eighty-seven per cent of its members who voted in a referendum on the issue, the chamber announced, were opposed to calling a convention to revise the 61-year-old basic law.

The chamber refused to disclose how many of the chamber's estimated 50,000 members voted in the referendum.

"We only publish the percentages," George D. Foss, general secretary, said.

The chamber's stand, in some quarters, was taken as the Republican reply to the challenge of the Earle administration for G. O. P. forces to state their position on revision or accept the inference that the Republican campaign pledge for revision was a "mere scrap of paper".

Concerning the tabulation of only 13 per cent of the chamber's votes in favor of the constitutional convention, Foss declared:

"The decisive majority opposing the call of a convention refines the policy of the state chamber relating to the question, and directs the chamber's activities prior to the fall primary election at which the question will be decided by the electors.

"The Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, therefore, calls upon its members to use all reasonable and proper methods for the defeat of the proposal on September 17."

Verdict Secured By Benjamin F. Black Against C. W. And Eleanor Beerbower

In an opinion handed down at court today, Judge James A. Chambers grants a new trial in the case of Benjamin F. Black against C. W. Beerbower and Eleanor Beerbower, in which a verdict for $4,300 was secured by the plaintiff as a result of an automobile accident on Wilmington avenue.

Following the accident suits were brought by both Black and the Beerbowers against each other. The suits by the Beerbowers against Black were won by the defendant, and of Black against the Beerbowers by the plaintiff.

The accident happened a short distance north of the top of the Jefferson street hill. Black was driving north and the Beerbowers south when their cars met. At the trial of the cases there was considerable conflicting testimony as to the responsibility for the accident.

Since the verdict was rendered the Beerbowers claim that they have discovered new evidence. In an affidavit filed they allege that George

Frank L. Blumquist Identified As Man Who Was Murdered

Widow Identifies Husband In Butler Morgue Wednesday Night—No Clues As To Motive For Brutal Crime—Had Been Beaten and Garrotted—Missing Since Monday At 9 A. M.—Murderers Drove Off With Victim's Automobile.

(BULLETIN 2:00 P. M.)

Automobile of the late Frank Blumquist, murdered near Portersville, was found by State police today at Harmony.

It had been left there the night of the crime by three men one of whom sought medical attention following a wreck, it was stated.

The car was taken to a garage and Sergeant Pierce and Trooper Rousseaux in charge of the murder case sped to Harmony about 12:30 p. m.

Frank L. Blumquist, age 45, English avenue, Union township, missing since 9 a. m. Monday, was the man slain with a blunt instrument on the lonely Portersville-Slippery Rock road, probably Monday night, according to a positive identification made Wednesday night at Butler by his widow and her neighbor, J. D. Pattison.

Taken to the state police barracks at Butler by State Trooper Al Knudsen, County Detective A. S. Leslie and a News police reporter after she said the description of the man and clothing as published in The News fitted her missing husband, she gazed at the clothing and a blanket found at the death scene and exclaimed:

"That's him!"

Widow Shocked

Reeling from the shock the woman, made a widow by a fiendish crime, was clutched by Mr. Pattison, steadied, then helped to an office in the state police barracks where she was questioned by Sergeant M. J. Crowley, Sergeant Pierce, Trooper Knudsen and County Detective Leslie.

She told of how her husband, a former CWA and RWD worker, had been employed at a local plant until recently, had left Monday morning to put out advertising cards for two candidates for nomination at the coming primaries and of her not having seen him since he left his home.

After she had become somewhat composed they asked her to accompany them to the Berkimer Funeral Home where her husband, full of life as late as Monday, lay cold in death, beaten and battered, on a slab. Arriving at the funeral home she had to be steadied as she entered.

Led into the room where death existed she leaned heavily on the arm of Mr. Pattison and State Trooper Knudsen. One glance was sufficient to satisfy the woman that the man who lay there was her husband. Bursting into tears she pleaded in a voice:

"How could they do it? How could they do it?

Other Identification.

To make sure that hysteria did not prompt her identification the officials asked her to take another look at the silent body and she did and agian she said the body was that of her husband, gone from home since Monday.

To make the identification more positive, Mr. Pattison was requested to study the features of the man and he said that there was no doubt but that the man who was "put on the spot", probably Monday night, was Frank L. Blumquist of Union township. They based their identification on several things:

1—The blanket, dark in color and striped white.

2—The white shirt, white trousers with a black pin stripe.

3—The shoes, bought at a New Castle shoe store.

4—A scar from an appendix operation.

After being led from the room she

NEED SECURITY LEGISLATION

State Lacks Laws To Share Program Says Welfare Head

Estimates Statutory Deficiency Will Cost State $10,000,000

SCHEEHLE WILL TRY FOR STATE EXCEPTION

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Lacking proper legislation, Pennsylvania cannot share at once in the bulk of the new Federal Social Security program, Secretary of Welfare J. Evans Scheehle said today.

The statutory deficiency probably will cost the state the loss of an estimated minimum of $10,000,000 out of $97,000,000 in federal funds for the first year of the gigantic program, ending next July 1.

Await Funds

Machinery for the state's participation in the $3,000,000 federal blind pension system, the secretary said, awaits only the first allocation of funds from Washington to bring more dollars for Pennsylvania's blind and near-blind and expansion of the present system.

But only by a "liberal" interpretation of the Social Security Act on the part of the Social Security board, as yet to be named by President Roosevelt, may the Keystone state expect immediate benefits for old age pensions and mothers' assistance, Dr. Scheehle declared.

"Pennsylvania cannot, under its present laws, participate in the entire social security program," Scheehle stated. "New legislation will have to be drawn to enable us to receive funds for mothers' assistance and old age pensions. Pennsylvania will be disbarred from accepting aid under the 'dollar-for-dollar' provisions of the new act unless some exception is made by the Social Security board."

Dr. Scheehle said that immediately upon appointment of the security board he would personally present Pennsylvania's case for granting of an exception to the board in Washington.

Special Session?

Without favorable consideration from the federal board, the immediate necessity for new legislation as confirmed by Dr. Scheehle gave added weight to rumors of a special session of the legislature some time this year. Whether called for constitutional revision, relief revenue or any other purpose, such a session would enable the state to enact legislation to quality and receive federal constitutions for the current year.

Under the Social Security Act, also known as the Wagner-Lewis bill, the feedral government will match, dollar for dollar up to a total of $15 per individual, state old age pension contributions. Pennsylvania's appropriation for old age pensions for the current biennium stands at $19,800,000, one-half of which has already been allocated to the counties for the first year.

Start At 70

Pennsylvania and 13 other states now begin old age payments at 70. The recently enacted federal measure gives these states until 1940 to reduce that age limit to 65.

This state, now paying a maximum of $30 per month under its old age and mothers' assistance systems, would have an additional $15 per month with which to cut down waiting lists and expand its service once participation in the federal program got under way, the welfare head pointed out.

The biennial state appropriation of approximately $4,500,000 for mothers' assistance, now matched in equal amount by the counties, would be bolstered by a corresponding contribution from the federal government under the new act. For the next year this would mean an approximate federal contribution of $2,000,000.

Added to that would be approximately $8,000,000 forthcoming from Uncle Sam for old age pensions within the state for the next year—bringing the total anticipated to roughly $10,000,000, which may not be received.

ITALIAN CONSUL SERIOUSLY HURT IN HUNT MISHAP

national News Service the shooting was in all probabilities accidental.

Although investigation of the incident, which occurred a day out of Addis Ababa while Baron Falconi was on his way to Debre Marcos with his wife and party, is still in progress, the legation is apparently satisfied it was an accident and therefore no cause for further straining of Italo-Ethiopian relations.

"It appears," an official of the legation said, "that Baron Falconi was wounded either by a charge from his own gun, or by a firearm in the hands of one of his servants shooting at game.

"The baron's condition is grave, as he lost a great deal of blood during the ten hours required to take him from his hunting camp back to Addis Ababa for treatment.

"For the moment, however, he is not in immediate danger of death provided complications do not develop."

Baron Falconi headed a large party which left Addis Ababa yesterday. They had planned a number of stops to hunt game on the way to Debre Marcos. The baroness, who was with him at the time of the shooting, returned with him to Addis Ababa, remaining constantly at his side and denying herself to interviewers.

After a few seconds the three walked back to their car. Tears were streaming from Mrs. Rogers' eyes, while the eyes of her sons were dimmed by emotion.

Did Not Collapse

Mrs. Rogers did not collapse. She was visibly shaken by grief, but kept a firm control over her emotions.

It was the first time Mrs. Rogers or her sons had looked on the features of the husband and father since he left Hollywood a few weeks ago on the ill-fated vacation trip to Alaska with Wiley Post, who crashed to his death with Rogers on the barren Alaskan tunda.

It was a final farewell.

The man who lived always without ceremony, a homespun philosopher, today was to be accorded one of the most profound tributes in the history of the nation.

Funeral services were to be held for Will Rogers this afternoon and the country will bow in observance of the genius which led him from an Oklahoma ranch hand to the confidante of kings, from a rope twirling cowboy to an unofficial diplomat.

The respect of the nation will be accorded at the same time to Wiley Post, the air adventurer, who crashed to death with Rogers in far northern Alaska a week ago.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 22.—With two finely contrasted services, the one a pompous public memorial, the other an old-fashioned Baptist funeral, Oklahoma was finally to say farewell today to her aviator son.

Until noon, Wiley Post's fellow-Oklahomans shuffled, in their leisurely Oklahoma way, past his bier in the rotunda of the state capitol. Then, under escort of National Guardsmen, the flag-draped casket was to be moved toward the steps of the capitol building and the Rev. William Slack, chaplain of the forty-fifth division, was to open the service with prayer. Governor Ernest M. Marland, placing a wreath at the bier, was to eulogize both the man lying in the casket and his companion in a grim Arctic death, Will Rogers.

Airplanes were to circle the state house, dropping flowers, while the service was in progress there.

Officialdom, state and national, predominated in the audience attending the public memorial. Alienated from their own by the to-do of politicians and potentates, Wiley Post's home folks—his parents, brothers, sister and widow—expressed a preference not to attend the public memorial service but only the funeral service in First Baptist church.

The casket-lid was to be closed before the church service and to be opened only if the family desired it, and for them only.

and they enacted it as Mr. Butz himself and the audience shook with laughter. Everything was humorous during the show—a sketch on Mr. Butz' life from infancy to manhood.

When the frivolity on the stage ended, it started in the audience. William J. Eroe, Sr., another Episcopal church pioneer here, walked forward and related amusing incidents in the life of Mr. Butz.

Before the show and after it pep singing was enjoyed with Dudley M. Arnold, leading.

Dickey Presents Memento

Chairman Lewis, whose efforts made the testimonial the success it proved to be, called upon Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, member of the church vestry with Mr. Butz, to make the club's formal presentation of a bound memento which carried on its pages the telegram from the White House and the written felicitations of churchmen and local friends.

Briefly, Mr. Dickey recalled the service of Mr. Butz and then, as one who has served 18 years with him as a member of Trinity vestry, handed the book to Mr. Butz. Mr. Butz, in a short but sincere response, thanked the men for the tribute and told them "I will long cherish this memento."

As he sat down, the crowd broke forth in the merry tunes of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The men sang it luxtily.

Participating in the program was Mr. Butz's son, Paul F. Butz.

Lunch Closes Tribute

The guild room program ended about 9:30 and the group adjourned to the rear dining room for tasty refreshments prepared and served by a committee headed by Howard P. Meehan. Single candles, in the center of small cakes, were lighted and in unison were blown out.

Participating in the early stage entertainment were the club's president, Mr. Jones, Dudley M. Arnold, Harry J. Culliford, Howard P. Meehan and Chairman Lewis.

In his telegram, received Wednesday afternoon, President Roosevelt said that he had just learned of last night's program and desired to express his best wishes.

Other letters which Mr. Butz will long prize were signed by the Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., bishop of the Erie diocese; the personal secretary of Bishop Taitt of the Diocese of Pennsylvania; Dr. J. D. Herron, Cincinnati, the rector who first named Mr. Butz s senior warden in 1887; Alex Crawford Hoyt, Fred L. Rentz, Russell Melvin, for the coordinate bodies of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, and John S. Wallace.

At the end of a testimonial resolution each member of the club had signed his name.

Mr. Butz was confirmed in the church by Bishop Whitehead in 1684.

WPA Organization To Elect Officers

Meet Friday Evening For Election And Discharge Of Other Business

On Friday evening of this week in their headquarters, Societa Casa Savoy hall, 923 South Mill street, the Workers' Progressive association will conduct an election of officers for yearly terms beginning on that date. A capacity attendance is expected. At a meeting on Friday evening, August 9, a constitution was adopted without a dissenting vote, providing for this election and fixing the manner of conducting it.

A communication has been received by the Workers' Progressive association from A. L. Wills, consultant on community contracts, State Emergency Relief board, Harrisburg, who, after discussing direct relief matters in some detail concludes by saying: "I trust, therefore, you will continue to work with our local executive director, J. W. Moorehead, in the difficult days that still lie ahead of us." This thought suggests the reason for the existence of the organization, and the manner in which it can be of real service to its members.

Another communication has been received from J. Vale Downie, district director, district No. 14, Works Progress Administration, New Castle, in which he writes: "We have received notice today that several projects for Lawrence county have been approved in Washington and we are hoping to get some work started and some money coming into the county and the district in the near future."

President Oberleitner pointed out today that Blumquist was a quiet, honest man, whom, so far as he knew, had no enemies, and Oberleitner is at a loss to account for any reason why Blumquist should have been murdered and left along the lonely road near Portersville.

Blumquist had been in charge of some of the tickets connected with the picnic held by the association yesterday. According to Oberleitner, the amount of money which Blumquist would have had would not be large.

Blumquist kept all his records in a portfolio which he carried in his car. Until the car and portfolio are found they will be at a loss to know exactly how much money he had, but, Oberleitner added again, it would not be a large amount.

Four Orphaned By Tragic Act

California, Pa., Miner Kills Wife And Commits Suicide, Prepare Funerals

(International News Service)

CALIFORNIA, Pa., Aug. 22.—Four orphaned children and grieving relatives today completed preparations for the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. John Korczyski, whose lives came to a tragic end in murder and suicide.

Korczyski, 48, an unemployed miner, fatally shot his wife, Frances, 40, as they sat on a porch swing of their home, and then committed suicide in the bedroom of his home by firing a bullet ito his temple.

Both died almost instantly, according to police, who advanced a theory of jealousy as the prompting motive for the tragedy. Neighbors told police the couple had quarreled frequently of late over what they believed to be Mrs. Korczyski's attentions to "another man".

Three of the four Korczyski children live at home. The oldest is 20 and the youngest 12. Another son is living in New York.

Galbreath, at Rogers, O. The affair carries double significance, in that it will honor the birthdays of the hosts, as well as be a means of renewing good fellowship.

To form the motorcade, all former students and others interested, will meet on the corner of West Falls street at the First Presbyterian church, between one and one-thirty o'clock. Moving on, not later than that time, the group will be joined along the itinerary by other students on the way. At Rogers, they will be joined by members from Pittsburgh, Alliance and Cleveland.

A picnic supper will be served on the beautiful grounds on the Galbreath estate, about 4:30.

As many prominent residents in Lawrence and nearby counties received their education at Volant college, the only institution of the kind near here many years ago, much interest has been shown by former students and friends of the alumni association, in these yearly gatherings. FALSE ECONOMY

IT is difficult to comprehend the reasoning back of the refusal of the county commissioners to spend the $300 necessary for materials with which to copy the court house records. On the face of it, it appears like false economy, for by that expenditure the county would be accomplishing something that has been needed for years.

Several years ago a contract was almost let to a concern which proposed to photograph all records and preserve the records in celluloid. That contract would have been approximately $10,000.

The hazardous condition of the court house insofar as fire is concerned makes it more important that records should be copied and preserved. At one time it was proposed to purchase record books and copy the records but the cost of this was found to be heavy.

With the Works Progress Administration offering to do the work if the commissioners will spend $300 for paper, it certainly seems that the offer should be accepted. In addition it would give a group of "white collared" workers jobs for several months.

If the records are ever to be copied the cost will never be any cheaper than it is now.

BUSY SESSION AHEAD

With 75 more cases already on file than at the same time last year, the docket of the United States supreme court indicates that the nation's most important tribunal is going to face one of the busiest and most important sessions on record when court reconvenes in the fall.

Constitutionality of the new deal is not the only weighty issue. There also are numerous cases relating to bankruptcy, debtor relief, receiverships, taxation, insurance, banking and public utilities. All of the matters are of direct and vital bearing upon the trend of affairs at official Washington.

Fortunately, the supreme court has indicated, through decisions rendered during the terms recently completed, that it will stand four-square in defense of American fundamentals. That assurance offers business men and industrialists a firm basis for confidence with respect to the immediate future of the economic and financial realm.

Doubt and uncertainty as to the course of events at the centre of government are certain to be minimized as soon as the supreme court comes to grips with the questions to be raised during the crucial session that looms on the horizon of national litigation.

SCRAPS OF PAPER

In connection with the impending conflict between Italy and Ethiopia, it is interesting and significant to note the various agreements and compacts that have been entered into by these two countries supposedly with a view to the preservation of peace in North Africa.

In 1902, Italy joined Great Britain and France in guaranteeing the independence and territorial integrity of Ethiopia, the concord definitely stipulating that "in no case would any of the three governments intervene in any manner or measure except with the agreement of the two others."

With the consent and support of Italy, Ethiopia was accorded the full rights and privileges of membership in the League of Nations following the World war.

In 1928, Italy and Ethiopia signed a treaty of friendship agreeing not to carry out "under any pretext any action that might prejudice the independence of the other" and " to submit to conciliation or arbitration questions which shall arise between them and which could not be solved by the normal diplomatic means without having recourse to force."

These several compacts, certainly should provide enough machinery for the pacific adjudication of any differences that have arisen in connection with boundary disputes and so-called border incidents.

But Il Duce apparently is determined to follow the course previously followed by that prince of imperialism, Kaiser Wilhelm, and reduce all solemn covenants to the status or mere scraps of paper.

It seems in the light of recent developments that everybody was just having a little fun when they signed the Kellogg Treaty outlawing war.

Governor Landon, of Kansas, has gained national fame by resorting to the almost unheard of practices of tax reduction and public economy.

Bruno Hauptmann is said to have written an autobiography that contains practically no mention of the Lindbergh kidnaping. This, of course, proves his innocence.

A prophet of doom in the West heralds the swift approach of "the end of everything." The prospect has its compensations, including as it does, we assume, a certain United States senator from Louisiana.

We're not in the least vindictive but at the same time it would give us a certain amount of fiendish pleasure to have Italy, which has us on her sucker list, ask for a handout to wage war against Ethiopia.

Bible Thought For Today

A man shall be commended according to his wisdom; but he that is of a perverse heart shall be despised.—Proverbs 12:8.

Correctly Speaking

When "as to," "in regard to," or "in respect to" is used as a single proposition to govern a clause, the "to" should not be made to govern a substantive within the clause.

The nation's weakness can be measured by the strength of bureaucracy in control.

Young man: I have to be at my work at seven.

SOMETHING WRONG

Attendant: "Do you wish to consult Woosung Pootung, the great Chinese mystic?"

Woman: "Yes—tell him his mother is here."

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I....I....I

I offended my friend...I cannot understand why he should have been offended...And that failure to understand is my deepest offense of him.

Last night I heard an intelligent woman talking ... talking...talking. We listened with enjoyment, thinking only of what she was saying ... Suddenly she murmured something about taking the center of the stage and talking too much.. and said no more...Even self-effacement can be vanity.

A tiny spider, smaller than the head of a pin, raced across the paper on which I write...He will not last the winter out, his little life is closely bounded by the unknown. There is more meaning in him than in the granite mountain across the way. But the mountain stays, the little spides goes.

My friend from the city comes to visit me in the hills....I was prepared to change my ways gladly for his sake. But he sank gracefully, pleasantly into all our ways, easily living as we did, asking no more than we had, guest of hours, a visitor in our life...Thrice blessed is such a friend!

The water in this great lake below me is purple, amethyst, lovely green, fairer than all the jewels of the earth...By its shores I lift a portion of it in my cupped hands.... It has no color now. It is cool, sweet, delightful, but no jewel box....No matter. It is good for man to be unable to seize all beauty that he loves.

I shall walk the city streets again ....and perhaps, some day, I shall be in a great crowd of my fellows and feel an ignoble disgust....If I do, may I hear a voice saying: "Take any of these into the high hills where you have been and you would like, respect and—perhaps—love him. Be not so little and so mean!"

ARROGANCE INVITES RETALIATION.

Th man who does not retaliate in kind of verbal or physical blows is more to be feared than the one who accepts your challenge.

He prefers to think on his plan of punishment.

The result may be more than a match for you when you do get it.

You may be stronger physically and mentally.

That, to you, has been sufficient reason for imposing on some person.

But since he cannot meet you on equal grounds, you may be sure the attack will come in an unexpected way and you will be made to suffer before you have had time to ward off the blows.

Gruff, unfeeling individuals who believe in forcing their way through any opposition are often victims of attacks that floor them.

They are unprepared to cope with a well-prepared plan.

A weak individual seldom forgets injury planned revenge is the only weapon the weaker one can use.

Your arrogant, mean manner of treating others is something you think you can get away with any time.

You cannot always be successful in the tactics you follow.

ABOUT FLIES.

The confirmed gamblers will make wagers with each other as to the particular lump of sugar upon which a fly will alight. Here is a suggestion to them:

Experiments conducted by Professor Stanley Freeborn, parasite specialist of the University of California, show that house flies prefer to alight on a bright orange color to all other shades.

Last in preferences is pale green, thus indicating that fly paper in bright orange will attract the most flies.

Professor Freeborn made his tests by placing cardboard squares in different colors, then counting the flies that alighted on them in a given period of time. His count showed: Orange 10,572, primrose 6,541, dark blue 4,750, canary yellow 4,489, carmine 4,415, jade green 3,819, light gray 3,790, light blue 3,480, aluminum 3,426, light coral red 3,361, white 2,360, ivory yellow 2,238, light green 2,067.

Incidentally, Professor Freeborn's experiments with house flies must have cost the University of California much monies, figured in terms of the time consumed in counting flies.

The members of the Brain Trust in Washington are also busy with problems of equal value.

MYSTERIOUS TOWERS

The high, mysterious steel towers which appear as if by magic in remote spots of the country and excite the circulation of stories touching on nearly everything from buried treasure to oil wells, become quite commonplace when you know what they are. The speed with which they are erected and taken down does, however, remain rather mysterious. To erect a 100-foot tower which in reality is two towers, one inside the other, in two hours and a half seems impossible. But it is done and is explained simply by the efficiency of a well-trained crew. The United States Coast and Geodetic survey is responsible for the appearance of the towers. These structures are part of that bureau's tools and they have their sole usefulness in making it possible to sight distant points. The federal surveyors have a big job before them in mapping the entire United States and the towers have been a great aid.

Young Oswald was surely an officious young man to which every one in the firm's employ agreed. He always was horning in where he was not wanted, and, too, he had a highly exalted opinion of himself.

A REAL LIFE ROMANCE

Holding the beautiful girl close to him, he gazed into the unfathomable depths of her gazelle-like eyes. Anxiety and concern were expressed in every line of her face, which had that touch of youth that needs no make-up. She gazed into his face as if she dreaded what he was about to say, and as though she meant to read his very soul. A sigh escaped her lips from time to time and she breathed as if she was swept by some inner emotion. For many minutes thus they sat—neither speaking, each gazing into the other's face.

"Yes," said the oculist at last, "one eye is seriously affected and if it is not treated it will develop a decided squint."

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

"To be polite, is it necessary that I rise from my chair every time my wife and her mother enter and leave our living room during the evening?"—J. B. M.

Answer: Indeed, no! That would be asking too much from any man.

Rise the first time they come into the room each evening, then seat yourself comfortably with your pipe and newspaper and feel that you have done your duty in this respect.

The most demanding woman in the world would not expect a tired business man after a hectic day in the office to spend the evening bobbing up and down when he should be relaxing and enjoying his leisure hours.

In the presence of strangers you should show your wife and her mother and all other women the courtesy of rising whenever they enter or leave a room. But in the presence of your immediate family, you should be given the privilege of moderating this rule.

Wall Street Worried.
Borah's Views Not Liked.
Believes In Expanded Currency.

Central Press
Washington Bureau
199 S street
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Republican sleuths say that Senator William E. Borah is out in front for the G. O. P. Republican nomination.

That puts financial New York into a peculiar position. Borah believes in "expanded and managed" currency. That, to financial New York, spells inflation.

President Roosevelt, "with all his faults", doesn't believe in inflation.

Borah stands square on the constitution, but is a silverite. And, between the two, financial New York would raher have the constitution amended (provided the amendments appeased the people and did not deprive interests of their property rights) than to have "any more juggling of the currency."

The "trouble" with the Republicans is that they have to carry the midwest and the west to win—and the western Republicans, with the exception of Herbert Hoover, have inflationary and silvery ideas.

It would be queer if financial New York had to switch to Franklin D. Roosevelt to protect the currency.

A HOT CONVENTION

It begins to look as if the Republicans, not the Democrats, will have the battle-rocked convention this time.

It's always the insurgents who "cause trouble" anywhere. And it's in the Republican party that the insurgents are trying to gain control. The insurging movement within the Democratic party is the Old Guard. While the Old Guard is peppery, it lacks punch when it hasn't power. Besides, it will subside to win. And the Democratic Old Guard, viewing Franklin D. Roosevelt as a winner, is willing to go along with him to its own victory—and then tantalize him.

In the coming Republican convention, the insurgents will try to sweep the field. They cannot win, for the Old Guard has the money. But, if the Republicans desire victory, they will have to appease the insurgents.

They may make the ticket Borah and Vandenberg—Borah as a cross between regular and insurgent, and Vandenberg as fairly regular to the Old Guard. At one time the Michigan senator was looked upon as having progressive leanings, but now he is the most audible spokesman the standpat Republicans have in the senate.

Of course, if Herbert Hoover, through control of southern delegates, who were largely postmasters under him, wins the Republican nomination, the disgruntled candidates for the nomination are likely to join the disgruntled insurgents and permit the national election to go by default, with the fight centered on gaining control of congress.

LAUGHING IT OFF

Not a very good job was made of laughing off the lobbying of utilities in Washington against the utility holding company bill.

Propaganda was disseminated to make sport of the "absurdity" of the Associated Gas & Electric system's faked telegrams, of the dinner parties, of the presence of Marvin H. McIntyre, a presidential secretary, at a dinner party with the chief lobbyist of A. G. & E.

And the propagandists thought it a good joke that John J. O'Connor, Tammanyite, anti-Roosevelt chairman of the house rules committee, kept Howard C. Hopson, rotund A. G. E. dictator-promoter, hidden away from the very much in earnest senate investigating committee. It turned the entire affair into an offer bouffe, the propagandists remarked.

It was a good joke, too, when Hopson could not remember whether he received $300,000 or $500,000 from his companies last year. (A director in 200 companies has a difficult time remembering..

But it was not such a good joke when the senate committee estimated that the utility companies had spent an estimated 20 million dollars to defeat this one bill—and that the cost would be borne by stockholders and consumers.

As for the presidential secretary who was dining with the propagandist for the chief enemy of his boss' measure—the president may find another job for him soon. For a long time liberals have charged, openly, that McIntyre has made it difficult for them to get on the president's engagement list, which he supervises.

COMING?

The Guffey-Snyder bituminous coal bill was bitterly fought.

The most compact argument of those opposed to it was made by Representative Fuller of Arkansas, who said:

"If this bill can be enacted into law, we will then be faced with the proposition of similar laws governing all natural resources and all public utilities, including gas, oil, electricity, lumber and railroads.

"In fact, this is the first step in that direction."

He is correct. The government will be forced by circumstances to gain control of all natural resources and public services.

The wreckage left by promoters in coal, railroads and public utilities will have to be cleaned up by the government if there is to be order and an estoppage of terrific waste, liberals say.

The opposition has the hardihood to say what is occurring. The New Dealers are fearful to put into words whither the trend is carrying them. They wish they did not have to dabble in the coal mess.

The chief opposition, of course, came from the Andrew Mellon companies. But they won't take care of the thousands of starving miners and the hundreds of bankrupt operators.

THE FIRST SUCCESS.

Fortune smiled on him and he Thought she'd smile forever;
Thought he'd never have to be
Strong again or clever.

Fortune held him by the hand.
Failure was behind him.
Now he merely had to stand
Where success could find him.

With the first fight, blow by blow,
All is won, he reckoned.
This is what he didn't know:
Harder is the second.

Fortune came and called his name;
As the tides were shifting,
Found him on the oars of fame
Indolently drifting.

Fortune left him pitiless,
There without a penny;
But that little first success
Ruins, oh, so many!

A reminder. The year is 1857: "It is a gloomy moment in history. Commercial prostration; men out of employment and hungry. Never before has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time."

Open Committee Sessions For Revision Task

Former Attorney-General William A. Schnader, Chairman Of Group

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—The committee on committees for Gov. George H. Earle's constitutional advisory committee gathered in initial session here Wednesday to select the personnel of sub-committees.

Just before the meeting opened, former Attorney General William A. Schnader, chairman, said the sub-committees immedately will be assigned various phases of the work of revising the 61-year-old fundamental law of Pennsylvania.

The sub-committees, each of which will be assigned one phase of the constitution for revision, will report back to the advisory committee quickly, so the voters can be given an outline of what would be in any new Pennsylvania basic law before the ballot on the question at the September 17 primaries.

The voters next month will decide whether they want a formal constitutional convention called in December. If they do, 70 delegates will be elected in November and a new constitution probably would be submitted to the people for ratification at the 1936 primaries.

Gov. Earle believes constitutional revision will accomplish four major objectives—"social security, modern methods of governmental financing, scientific taxation based on ability to pay, and reorganization of state and local governments in the interest of economy and efficiency."

Nine years may be no more than nine months where Houdini is. Or, was he the kind of man who always forgot to mail his wife's letter?

EMPORIUM, Pa., Aug. 22—Charles Tilburg, 30, was killed and his mother, Mrs. James MacCullum, was wounded Wednesday by James MacCullum, 52, his stepfather, following what police described as a family argument at the MacCullum home here.

DELAWARE COUNTY HAS SEQUOIA TREE

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—The big trees of California, also known as redwoods and Sequoias, are among the best known trees of North America. Few people know that a thrifty specimen of this tree is growing in Pennsylvania. It stands along the fence at the Painter Arboretum near Lima, Delaware county, and has attained a height of fifty feet. It is thirty inches in diameter at breast height.

Tree experts say that it is remarkable that this tree does so well in southeasern Pennsylvania. While it may never reach the size of the Sequoias of California, some of which are thirty feet in diameter and over 4,000 year old, it does promise to develop into a big tree. An appropriate outdoor exercise for nearby schools is to visit this rare tree, which is the largest of its kind in eastern North America.

PENNZOIL INTRODUCES FAMOUS 'PARTNER IN POWER' TO LOCAL MOTORISTS

These Perfect Partners Make All Cars Run Smoother, Easier

Radical new processes in gasoline construction make it possible for Pennzip to be "controlled" in 4 important ways. Pennzip's "Low Initial Boiling Point" makes your motor start quicker, with less battery drain and practically no gasoline waste. Pennzip's High Octane Rating gives extra power with real "no-knock" action. Damaging, power-wasting ingredients found in ordinary gasoline are removed from Pennzip, which means greater freedom from corrosion and valve-and-ring trouble. And Pennzip's Controlled Vapor Pressure gives you smooth, even performance under all weather conditions. Switch to Pennzip Gasoline—and save money!

THOUSANDS SWITCHING TO NEW PENNZIP GASOLINE

"PERFECT PARTNER" OF NEW PENNZOIL MOTOR OIL

MAKES ALL CARS RUN SMOOTHER, FASTER

WHEN thousands of motorists suddenly switch to New Pennzip Gasoline, there must be good reasons! Here they are:

First; New Pennzip Gasoline is made by the makers of New Pennzoil Motor Oil—so New Pennzip is the Perfect Partner of New Pennzoil. Second, New Pennzip Gasoline is specially "constructed" to meet the demands of modern high-compression motors—so instead of getting ordinary motor performance, with New Pennzip you get a smoother-running motor—a faster, peppier car! And third; with New Pennzip you get quick-starting and real "no-knock" action, winter or summer, right straight through the year!

In spite of all these features; New Pennzip Gasoline costs not a penny more. So get it today—from any station displaying the Pennzip sign.

RICE COUSINS ENJOY ANNUAL GATHERING

Rice Cousins held their annual reunion this year at Cascade Park, gathering there for an all-day affair, with excellent meals featuring at both the noon and supper hours.

There were 57 present. In the afternoon the customary business session was held, with the following officers elected: president, Ves Rice; vice president, Earl Dufford; secretary, Helen Jane Jacobson; treasurer, Mrs. Minnie Dufford.

Jess Rice, the only direct descendant of this pioneer family, accompanied by his wife, was here from Cleveland, together with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sedgwick, and family, Mrs. Hazel Eckhardt and family, all of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs Frank Gray, daughter Mildred and Woodrow Sexton came from Akron, O.

It was voted to hold the 1936 reunion the third Sunday in August, probably in Cleveland.

Wednesday of next week, the club will have another social session at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Johnson, Morris street, and on September 4, a bingo and 500 party for members and friends will take place at the home of Mrs. Flora Fulkerson, 506 Pine street.

PRIMARY AND JUNIOR DEPARTMENTS PICNIC

Primary and Junior departments of the Third United Presbyterian Sunday school, with the mothers of the young people as guests, held their annual picnic dinner at Cascade Park grove Wednesday noon.

After enjoying a most delicious menu served under the direction of Mrs. Floyd Moore, Miss Nettie Irene Mann and teachers of the department, a series of races and games was of interest to the children. The prizes were won by Richard Bailey, Billy Tackett, Charles Gee, Joseph Thornburg, ean McConnell, Phyllis Burdett, Harriet Reed, Doris Moore, Eleanor Moore, Eleanor Caldwell, Margaret Swanson, Thomas Aiken, Dale Carruthers, Myron Scheidemantle, Billy Henderson, Mary Ulrich, Ruth Cole, Doris Palmer, Olive Jean McKibben, Evelyn Gee, Jean Rapson and others.

OPENING DAY OF NORTH BEAVER SHOW

All roads leading to the North Beaver high school at Mt. Jackson are popular highways today—the reason, the opening day of the flower show, which is being held today and tomorrow by the North Beaver Garden Club.

With several nice sunny days this week gorgeous exhibits were sent in and arranged early this morning, and then the work of the judges to choose the winners began. The show was open to the public at three o'clock and will continue through until nine tonight. Friday the hours are 10 a. m. to nine p. m.

EXHIBITS OF INTEREST AT EAST SIDE SHOW

Besides choice flowers to be seen at the flower show in Epworth M. E. church Friday, under auspices of the East Side Garden Club, there will be other things of interest to adults and children.

From the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine there has arrived an exhibit which is sure to attract much attention. Mounts of the Japanese bettle, which has wrought such destruction in various parts of the country, have been set up, together with other displays of the corn borer and Dutch elm disease. This is in connection with the conservation work which is being done by all garden clubs and prominent workers everywhere.

Another feature will be the award by Mrs. William Howley, who is in charge of Junior Garden Club work for the Lawrence County Garden Club, to Oak street school for most points won on an erosion project. The award is a traveling cup which is given at flower shows to schools having majority of merit points. It has been held by Arthur McGill school for the past five years, as it was awarded there in 1930 and no flower shows have been held by the Lawrence county club since, until this year.

School exhibits will be prominently arranged, much effort having been made within the past few years, especially by Mrs. Howley and other prominent gardeners, to stimulate interest in young people along the line of gardening.

Judges for the show are Mrs. William Howley, Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad and Robert Weingartner. After their work is completed the doors will be open to the public at one o'clock, the show continuing through the day until nine o'clock in the evening.

Dinner At Park.

Shirley Holbrook was a special guest at the tureen dinner in which members of Section 2 of the First Christian church participated Wednesday noon at Cascade park. An appetizing menu was enjoyed after which the women had a nice time visiting.

The next regular meeting will be in September with Mrs. McCurdy of Adams street.

The News, By Mail, One Year, $5.00.

BLUE EAGLE CLUB HAS NEW NAME

Henceforth the Blue Eagle club will be designated the S. A. S. club, it having been decided to change the name at the meeting Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bertha Kienast, on East North street.

After the business was over the women had a pleasant social evening with the prizes going to Mrs. Eleanor Skunder for cards, Mrs. Anna Murray, the special trophy, and Mary Ellen Davis in the drawing contest. Mrs. May Nicholson was a visitor.

Flags were used about the home in decorations and serving lunch, the hostess' daughter, Beatrice, aided. It was decided to have a party on August 31, to which the men folks will be invited. The place will be arranged.

McMILLIN REUNION LARGELY ATTENDED

Fred McMillin, of Youngstown, is president; H. Everett Marshall, Wampum, vice president; Mrs. M. J. McMillin, New Castle, secretary-treasurer.

Seventy guests sat down to bountifully laden tables spread on the lawn. The oldest descendant present was Mrs. Sarah J. McMillin from this city, and the youngest, James Frederick McMillin, son of William McMillin, of Wampum. Pictures were taken of the group, one of four generations present, and also one of the oldest, Mrs. Sarah McMillin.

The next reunion will be held the third Saturday of August, 1936, at Mill Creek Park, Youngstown.

In serving lunch, the hostess was assisted by the Misses Josephine Miller and Laura Mae Boulden.

Mrs. Paul Burrows of 940 Morton street invited the club to her home on September 11.

Club Entertains Families.

G. K. W. club members and their families journeyed to Cascade park Wednesday evening, where they enjoyed supper out in the open. A wonderfully good menu was served at 6 o'clock in the grove at tables under shelter, with Mrs. M. W. Scott and Mrs. G. W. Campbell the committee in charge.

Informal pastimes and taking in the various park amusements filled in the remaining hours.

Their next gathering will take place September 18, with Mrs. John Atkinson on Emerson avenue.

BUTLER NEWLYWEDS AT WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Louis Wiegand, Jr., are honeymooning at White Sulpher Springs, Va., following their wedding Tuesday evening at Elm Court, Butler, the home of the bride's father, Benjamin Dight Phillips.

The bride was the former Undine Phillips, the last of the brides in the Phillips families—those of B. D. and Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., as all other daughters are now married. In the formal garden of the beautiful estate the young couple were joined in wedlock at six o'clock by Rev. Louis D. Riddle, pastor of the North street Church of Christ, who officiated at the weddings of the other sisters. Paul Fleeger of Butler played the wedding music on the big pipe organ which is located in the music room at Elm Court.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a lovely picture in her ivory satin gown, wearing as her only ornament the pearls that had belonged to her mother, the late Undine Conant Phillips. Her headdress was of hearloom rosepoint lace, which her sister, Mrs. F. H. Diebold, the former Clarinda Grace Phillips, had worn at her wedding last January. She carried an heirloom rosepoint handkerchief that had been her mother's, and her flowers were a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The attendants, Mrs. Rolland E. Ehrman, her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Caroline Miller of Detroit, a former classmate of the bride at Garland school, Boston, who was maid of honor, were gowned alike in rosette bagheera cloth. They carried Johanna Hill roses and delphinium.

William Moore of Canton was the best man, and ushering were B. D. Phillips, Jr., the bride's brother; Ferdinand Heim Diebold, Rolland L. Ehrman and Clifford Harshaw, the latter of Grove City. A reception followed the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Wiegand, who is well known in New Castle through frequent visits with her aunt, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, of Moody avenue, attended the Emma Willard school, Troy, N. Y., and the Garland school. She was graduated from the Erskine school in Boston.

Mr. Wiegand was graduated from Shadyside Academy after he completed the high school course in Butler, and from Harvard University. In order that he may complete a three-year course in the Harvard law school the couple will be at home in Cambridge, Mass. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Louis Wiegand.

Among the large number of out-of-town guests were several from New Castle, including Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Phillips Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson, Jr., John Byers, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Donnelly, Miss Jean Donnelly and Miss Gretchen Smith.

CHAUTAUQUANS ENJOY THIS WEEK SPECIALLY

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Rashid are in Chautauqua, N. Y., to spend recognition week. Mrs. Rashid took part in the exercises Wednesday, being graduated with the 1935 class.

Mrs. Perry Reeher has arrived to stay until September and Miss Emily Reynolds, who went up a few days ago, will remain until August 25.

In a season of delightful concerts, lectures, operas and what not for the entertainment of thousands of people there, this week is particularly interesting, as it embraces the third annual flower show, for which Mrs. Charles Greer of this city is largely responsible.

As chairman in 1930 of the flower and garden commitee of the Bird and Tree Club, Mrs. Greer, with the enthusiastic support of Mrs. Thomas A. Edison and other well-known women, has built a worthwhile exhibit from a two-table display five years ago. The show was even more interesting this season than usual, as greater stress was laid on the horticultural side of the exhibit.

MRS. W. G. DUNN IS HOSTESS WEDNESDAY

Mrs. W. G. Dunn, of East street, invited the members of the Circulating Book club to her home on Wednesday afternoon and all took part in a business meeting and informal hour of chat.

They planned to have the first luncheon meeting of the new social season on September 25, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Norris, Hazelcroft avenue. Mrs. R. G. Maxwell will be associate hostess.

600 MILES IN BARROW

(International News Service)

MELBOURNE. — Two musicians of the municipal band of Brighton are on a 600-mile journey to Sydney —one in a wheelbarrow, the other pushing it. William Armegurt, horn player in the band bet the drum major, William Darwin, $500 that he could not push him in a wheelbarrow to Sydney in 10 weeks. Last month, Tom Parkinson, wagered that he would push Tony Evans, in a wheelbarrow 50 miles, in eight days. He won with 40 minutes to spare.

The effort involved in all life becomes with man not only conscious but ideal, an effort to reach a higher state which he deliberately thinks out and places before himself.

WEST SIDE GROUP HAS HAPPY REUNION

Former pupils of Grade 7, West Side, at the time Lillian Russell was teacher, enjoyed a reunion recently at Cascade park, which was attended by a large number of local people.

Sixteen of the group were former pupils, the number being augmented to 26 by the families. An excellent dinner menu was served at the supper hour, after which a business meeting featured with the following election of officers: President, Fred Alexander; treasurer, Mrs. Wilford Thomas; secretary, Mrs. Paul Allen.

Later hours were informal, much praise being expressed for the success of the event which was arranged by the retiring officers, William Dewberry, president; Mrs. James Taylor, secretary; Alfred Barnsley, treasurer.

Little Flower Club.

An enjoyable event of Wednesday evening was a meeting of the Little Flower club in the home of Mrs. Eva Sherry on Euclid avenue. Many visitors were present and the occasion was more than usually enjoyable as the club had not met for sometime.

Bridge and bingo were pastimes, the prizes falling to Mrs. J. M. McGurk, Mrs. Edward Callahan, Mrs. J. Devlin, Katherine Rodgers, Annette Holiday and Mrs. Edward Mulcahy.

Mrs. James Carrigan of Baltimore, Md., was an out of town guest. The next meeting will take place in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Fred Flynn on Butler avenue.

A wedding ring which was lost nearly 21 years ago has been found by a worker harrowing in a field on a farm near Millfield, Scotland. In September, 1914, Mrs. M. Anderson, then a young married woman, was assisting with the harvest on her mother's farm when she lost her treasure.

THREW AWAY WEALTH NOW SHE'S IN JAIL

(International News Service)

DOLE, France — The Marquise Rola de Rozycka, widow of a wealthy Englishman, who squandered $2,000,000 in a few years, is today just a number in a French prison. She was sentenced to 18 months and $100 fine for fraud.

The marchioness, a plump, fair-haired woman of middle age, is known as "The Lady of a Hundred Castles." Her racket is to negotiate for the purchase of castle after castle, although moving in before the final formalities were concluded, then moving out again with a lot of debts added to her reputation.

Queen Mary will demand a livelier tempo in her next season's reception to American climbers. She wants more knee-action.

Coast Murder Baffles Police

Find Young Woman Naval Bureau Employe Shot To Death In Apartment

(International News Service)

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 22—Police admitted they were without the slightest clue which would lead them to the murderer of Mrs. Gladys Fair, 34, chief naval clerk.

Slumped over the rim of the bathtub, in her fashionable apartment here, a hole from a bullet through her head, and her golden hair cascading into the blood-stained water of the bath, Mrs. Fair's body was discovered yesterday.

Police said she had been shot sometime between midnight and 6 a. m. yesterday. There was no sign of a struggle in the apartment.

Officers said indications were the woman had been shot as she sat in an easy chair in her living room gazing seaward, and the body dragged to the bathroom.

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

Governor Earle, who was recently commissioned a Lieutenant-Commander in the Naval Reserve, is not new to the Navy. He commanded the United State sub-chaser Victor, during the World War and was awarded the Navy Cross for his "prompt and cougareous action in saving this boat from destruction during a fire and explosion aboard."

Over the capitol building at Washington there are four flag staffs: the flags over the east and west entrances fly night and day and are hauled down only when Congress adjourns. These flags are the only ones in the United States which by right are permitted to fly after sundown.

Samoa is the only United States possession south of the equator and is governed by a naval officer.

No alcoholic beverages are permitted to be used on board ships of the United States navy, except under the direction of the medical officer for medicinal purposes. In other words, the navy is still DRY.

Under ordinary peace time conditions, 8,000,000 barrels of fuel oil is said to be approximately a six month's supply for the ships of the naval force.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. August 21: one arrest, on a charge of suspicion.

W. T. Burns, city clerk, has passed to his reward, having been found dead in bed yesterday. In his passing the citizens lose a servant who was courteous, faithful and efficient. He served as city solicitor, councilman and city clerk, and time and again during his service the people realized his worth to the community.

Give the fire department a chance! Yesterday with the apparatus rushing at two p. m. to a blaze, traffic on the south lane of Washington street blocked the chief's car and accompanying truck, and they were forced to pull to the left of the street car. A truck shot across Mill street and an auto made a right turn from North Mill street into Washington street.

Three policemen are off duty on account of falls: namely, Michael Ritty, James Wysner and Detective Cyrus Horner. The former two have been off active duty for some time, and being entitled to compensation, draw it. Ritty became incapacitated for duty when he fell on the Public Square, Wysner at the Y. and Horner is recovering from a fall at the police station.

Looking back 20 years, the writer remembers when a tough hombre threatened to do away with the family of a brother police officer. Michael Ritty heard about it, and without as much as a second thought walked to the room where the tough guy and his pals were closeted, locked him up, and so impressed the tough guy he was glad to recant the things he said.

One of the most unique captures made on the police force also occurred about 20 years ago. A shooting took place on the Diamond while Patrolman James Wysner was off duty, reading a paper at home. He heard the shot and raced in his stocking feet after the man. "Stop! I'm Wysner!" exclaimed the officer, who did not have a weapon. The man who did the shooting surrendered immediately.

Detective Cy Horner has had a long career also on the police force and one of the most notable of his captures was the apprehension of "Snakes" Wilson. He served in the days when, if necessary, a wheelbarrow was used as a patrol wagon and also in the days when the city had some men who would resist arrest every time the law got after them.

Candidates Barred But Billboards Still Blot The Scenery

Candidates who are prohibited from plastering the state highways with pictures of themselves fail to see why this should mar the beauty of the highways, any more than the mammoth billboards which shut out the scenery. Of course the billboards are erected on private property, but if the object of the state highway department is to preserve the natural beauty of the landscape, it cannot be done as billboards are erected close to the roads. There was a bill before the last legislature to tax billboards by the square foot, but it is understood that it did not pass. Billboards close to residential sections are in the opinion of many, a detriment to property and some means of regulating them should be prescribed by the legislature.

Army Officers Favor Denver As Social Life Spot

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Fondness of army officers for gold and night clubs today was named the principal reason behind the war department's desire to move its air corps technical school from Chanute Field, Ill., to Denver.

In opposing the relocation of the school, Rep. Dobbins (D) of Illinois, charged army officers desired "better social advantages" that might be obtained in Denver. He said they were dissatisfied with the recreational apportunities afforded in Rantoul, Ill., the school's present site.

A bill by Rep. Lewis (D) of Colorado directing the transfer is pending before the house military affairs committee. According to Rep. Maverick (D) of Texas, committee member, a report by the war department complained that the country club facilities at Rantoul and nearby Champlain and Urbana, Ill., were unsatisfactory.

Navy Maneuvers In Canal Zone

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The 1936 navy maneuvers will be held in the Panama Canal zone and Central American coast area, instead of in the far Pacific as previously, it was announced Wednesday.

This is the first in many years the fleet has held its maneuvers so near the American coast. In addition a number of vessels will come east during the next summer and visit northern ports, followed by a South Atlantic and Gulf coast itinerary in August and September of next year.

The fleet will return to the San Diego-San Pedro area during October, 1936.

For the first time since about 1908 American naval ships will go around the South American coast including the trip around the Horn.

U. S. AID

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Federal aid grants are expected to boost school building construction work in Pennsylvania during the next year. For the past four or five years there has been a steady decrease in capital outlay for schools in Pennsylvania. Compromise For 'Death Sentence' Clause Approved

President Roosevelt Gives Approval To Compromise On Utility Bill

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Roosevelt today approved the so-called compromise for the "death sentence" provision of the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill.

While stating that the compromise makes a greater concession than he favored, he urged both House and Senate to accept it.

The proposal, presented to House conferees by Senator Barkley (D) of Kentucky, eliminated the definite five-year death sentence for utility holding companies, permits the continuation of holding companies with restrictions, and gives the federal power commission discretionary dissolution authority.

Not Real Compromise

House opponents of the death sentence assert that the compromise is not really a compromise but retains most of the objectionable features of the Senate bill.

President Roosevelt's letter, addressed to chairman Rayburn (D) of Texas of the House Interstate Commerce committee, follows:

"My dear Mr. Rayburn:

"I have seen a copy of the proposed substitute for subsection B of section 11 of the public utility holding company bill offered by the Senate conferees as a compromise of the differences between the House and Senate bill on the subject matter of subscription B.

"From the point of view of the House this proposal certainly constitutes a most generous concession on the part of the Senate conferees.

"From my point of view, it represents a greater recession from the Senate bill than I should like to see made. But I understand the urgent desire of many members of both Houses to have a bill worked out at this session, and to that end I hope the House will find this proposal of the Senate conferees acceptable.

"Very sincerely,

"Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Correct this sentence: "We make cars that will do eighty," said the man, "because the public demands it."

Tar-Feathers For Communists

California Vigilante Committee Applies Tar And Feathers

(International News Service)

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 22—Two communists were tarred and feathered early today when they refused to kiss the American flag at the order of 300 vigilante "night riders" who swept through Sonoma county rounding up all known radical labor agitators.

Three others, accused at a "night court" trial in an old abandoned warehouse or uging apple pickers to continue their recent strike, escaped a similar fate when they pledged allegiance to the flag, denied they were communists, and on bended knees kissed "Old Glory."

Are Identified

The radicals tarred and feathered were identified as Jack Green, accused of inciting labor trouble here, and Sol Nitzberg, a rancher, who fired 20 rounds of ammunition from a shotgun before surrendering to vigilantes who stormed his ranch home. None of the shots took effect.

After tarring and feathering Nitzberg and Green, the vigilantes ordered them through the business district of the city in an early morning "torch light" parade.

was taken to the office of the funeral director and questioned by Butler County Coroner Headland and District Attorney Negley. She could give no cause for the murder.

Although state troopers and others believed on account of the bloody condition of his head and body that he had been shot three times, they said an examination at the morgue disclosed he had been beaten and strangled to death.

The man had been gagged and his belt tied over the gag around his head. He also had been blindfolded with pool table cloth and the same material was used to garrot him.

His hands were tied behind his back, his knees tied together, likewise his ankles and a piece of the green cloth, faded from age, was wrapped around an ankle and tied to a tree.

Was Not Shot.

Police who had hunted for some time for bullets in the grass at the scene of his death were considerably surprised when they learned when the blood was wiped away that he had been beaten then strangled to death.

According to the doctor who had examined his body, the man had been battered with a blunt instrument. His skull showed two fractures, one above his right eye and the other on the left side of his head. He also had a cut on the rear of his head where he had been struck.

However, the doctor said that death was caused by strangulation, the piece of faded green cloth having been tightly wrapped around the victim's throat. He lay face downward when found with a piece of blanket, which belonged to the car, a Buick coach, 1929 model, Pa. license UU874, still missing.

Mrs. Blumquist could throw no light on the case—as to why her husband should be murdered. She said that some time previously he had been unemployed but for a time later had worked at a local plant. Since then he has been identified with the National Security association.

Had Some Money.

She said that when he left home she did not know the exact amount of money he had on his person. Later it was learned he was in charge of the ticket sale for the National Security association picnic which was held here yesterday. The amount of money he had would not be large.

It was also learned that he had been an organizer for the National Security association and was believed to have done some of this work at Butler. However, it was learned that no meeting of the association was held at Butler on Monday and if he had been in that city, his reason for being there as yet is unknown.

According to police, the green cloth, apparently taken from a pool room table, belonged in the car which he had bought some time ago. The green table cloth, evidently from a pool table, was in the car at the time he bought it; that dissipates the theory that it was ripped from a gambling house table or a billiard table.

According to the undertaker, Blumquist was killed at the spot where he was found 300 yards on the Portersville to Moore's Corner, Slippery Rock road. There were twigs and grass wrapped in the knots of the different places where he was tied up. It is the theory that more than one person was connected with the murder.

Two Fractures

One blow on the rear of the head caused a deep laceration. There was a laceration above the left eye, on the top of his head, and one on the left side of his head. They caused two slight fractures of the skull, but the cause of death, it was stated, was strangulation.

The National Security Association picnic was held Wednesday. Blumquist had, as the party in charge of the ticket sales committee, approximately $50.00.

The report of the pool table cloth being in the car when he bought it here dissipated the theory that he had been trussed up in a gambling hall or poolroom and hauled to the spot where he was bludgeoned to death. The cloth was aged, faded and bore out the theory it might have been in his car. His wife was inclined to the belief that hitchhikers had been given a ride and murdered him.

One of the mysteries is the car. It has not yet been located. It bore Pennsylvania license UU-874. Whether the men who killed Blumquist strove to hide it away is not known. Troopers and the highway patrol are searching for the car today.

There are three children in the Blumquist family, Charles Miller, 18, a step-son, who is with the marines at Paris Island, and Frank and Betty Blumquist, 11 and 10 years old respectively. News of the murder was sent to the step-son at Paris Island today.

Mrs. Blumquist believed the body of the murdered man was that of her husband as soon as she read The News yesterday. She told police her husband was attired exactly as The News stated. State police were informed the kind of shoes he wore, and she said he had some time ago bought a similar pair.

Questioned by Police

During the journey to Butler she was questioned by Trooper Knudsen and Leslie, but excepting for the fact that he had gone campaigning for two candidates for county offices she could not tell any of his movements on the first day he was missed.

Monday evening Mrs. Blumquist walked by the Y. M. C. A., where the National Security Association picnic committees met, and several of the members asked if her husband would be present, as he was in charge of ticket sales. She said he had not yet returned home, but she expected him.

When he left home Monday it was evident he did not expect to be out late, as he did not wear a coat. It was pointed out that if he anticipated being out late at night he would wear a coat. Mrs. Blumquist did not know how much money he had with him at the time of his departure.

How he came to be in Butler county cannot be explained. The Lawrence county line stops near Dixie Inn and the Portersville-Slippery Rock road is several miles distant. There would be no need of him posting political signs for Lawrence county candidates in Butler county.

The state police of troop D today threw out a dragnet for the slain man's automobile, a Buick coach carrying Pennsylvania license UU-874. It is believed that when it is found it will contain blood, police believing that if he wasn't attacked in the car it was done away with by the murderers.

Forced Him Off

It is possible that someone forced Blumquist to drive to the 50-foot "driveway" off the road, which has been used by "petters". A long gash in the rear of his head suggests he may have been clipped with an auto tool from behind while he was seated in the car.

If this occurred, he then must have been attacked from the front also, as he has two fractures on the head from blows. His face is somewhat battered, and if he were attacked in the car he was dragged out, trussed up, then tied to the sapling.

According to police who investigated the case, the trussing up could not have been done by one person. He was a large man, more than six feet tall, and weighed 200 pounds. He was either dragged or carried for a part of the distance to the spot where he was found.

Sergeant Pierce and Trooper Russeaux, who were assigned to investigate the murder immediately following discovery of the body at the spot used by "Petters" arrived here early this morning and went into various angles of the case. They talked to close male associates of the slain man.

They hope to ferret out any knowledge of possible enemies that the English Avenue man may have had and hope to check up on every movement he made Monday. No doubt some person will be found who saw him after he left this city. He may have been in Butler, according to reports.

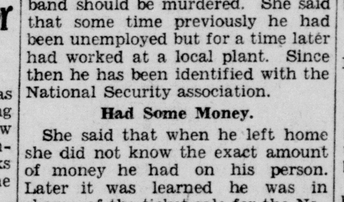

No arrangements were made by his widow for funeral services last night. Neither did Coroner Headland state when an inquest would be held. It is probable that the Butler county officials will name the date today. No doubt, many New Castle friends of Blumquist will be at the inquest.

Indications that Blumquist may have been visiting night clubs in the Butler area before his murder were seen in a partial identification of the dead man by the proprietress of a district roadhouse.

Mrs. E. A. Forsberg, operator of the Villa Marie, a club on the Perry highway, said she believed the victim stopped at her place on either Monday or Tuesday evening. Three waitresses, later discharged by Mrs. Forsberg, were being sought for questioning in connection with Blumquist's reported visit to the club.

Many homemakers do not salt meat before cooking, claiming that it dries the meat. But experiments show that there is very little loss of juice in salting meats before roasting or stewing. In fact, as a result the seasoning distributes evenly throughout the meat, improving the flavor.

County Swept By Heavy Storm

Deluge Breaks Over County During Early Afternoon Hours Wednesday

WEST SIDE HOME HIT BY LIGHTNING

New Castle and Lawrence county were deluged again Wednesday afternoon when a severe electrical storm swept the district.

As far as can be learned, the damage in the city was not so severe, but Mahoning, Pulaski and North Beaver townships reported losses.

A transformer of the Pennsylvania Power company was struck at Coitsville, shutting off current in Mahoning and Pulaski townships for about an hour.

In the vicinity of Mt. Jackson, a number of telephone poles were blown down.

Two alarms of fire were sounded during the course of the storm from the city, but little damage was noted. Both were due to lightning striking the homes.

At 1:30, firemen were called to the home of Andrew Hricz on Bluff street, just outside the city in Union township, where a bolt had struck the chimney. There was little damage to the home and no fire resulted.

At 1:45 an alarm from box 311 Pine street, where residents of the family thought they saw smoke coming from under the roof, during the storm. An investigation failed to disclose any smoke when firemen got to the scene.

Firemen Called To Old Pittsburgh Road To Extinguish Blaze At Noon

Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman and the B. Truck company of Central station answered an alarm to the home of Mrs. Daisy Trimble, of the Old Pittsburgh road just beyond East New Castle, at noon today, when a pile of clothing in a bedroom at the Trimble home was found ablaze.

Neighbors succeeded in throwing the blazing garments and bed clothing out of the window before the home took fire, and by the time firemen arrived on the scene, the danger was over. The damage, which was around $25 was covered by insurance.

Cities Service Next Company Up For Probe

Senate Lobby Committee Prepares To Investigate Doherty Company

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. — The Senate lobby committee today launched an investigation into the far-flung corporate empire of the Cities Service Company.

Meanwhile the so-called Associated Gas and Electric Company's "master mind", Howard C. Hopson, sat on the sidelines. He was questioned briefly before the Cities Service probe started.

With the Cities Service comptroller, William B. S. Winans, on the stand, the committee called for all records bearing not only on the company's fight against the pending utility bill, but also all data concerning the details of the corporate structure.

Winans said he "thought" the organization embraced about 160 companies in all.

Under questioning he revealed also that the Cities Service head, Henry L. Doherty, owned an interest in the Kansas City Journal-Post.

From the tone of the questions shot at Winans, it was apparent that the company objected to examination of some of its data. The committee chairman, Senator Black (D) of Alabama, explained that his committee had all necessary authority" to look into any and all records of the company.

Harris Company In Pittsburgh Is Gutted By Fire

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—Downtown Pittsburgh crowds got a thrill Wednesday watching firemen battle a blaze which swept the offices of the Harris Ausement company seven floors up in the towering Clark building.

Fanned by brisk winds from open windows, the fire routed scores of office workers and roared through the office of John Harris, manager of the amusement company. The office of State Senator Frank J. Harris, adjoining, was seared and damaged by water.

Priceless photographic relics and family keepsakes in the office of John Harris were destroyed.

Sparks from a vacuum cleaner ignited a cleaning preparation being used on a rug were believed to have caused the fire.

Itching of Eczema Gone After Using Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"My little boy, aged twenty months, had eczema on his face. I treated it for six weeks, but it got worse and spread. It was in water blisters, and he would scratch until the skin would be raw and irritated and little patches of water would stand out. He was very cross and fretful and would lie awake nights scratching.

"Cuticura Soap and Ointment were recommended to me so I tried a free sample. After using it, the itching seemed to stop so I purchased more, and in less than two weeks the irritation was completely relieved." (Signed) Mrs. Thomas Robson, R. F. D. 1, Jackson Center, Pa.

Motorists Must Obey Flagmen On Highways

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—Unless you're prepared to say "Good morning, Judge," you better keep your tongue in your cheek the next time you're tempted to "bawl out" that flagman who signals you down in areas of the highway where men are at work.

Motorists who indulge in abusive language toward these men, placed to safeguard the lives of others, are due for a reckoning according to the latest orders in the safety campaign being conducted by Warren VanDyke, Secretary of Highways.

In these orders to the field, the Secretary says that although a motorist observes every phase of the Motor Code, flagmen report verbal abuse which makes the driver liable to prosecution on disorderly conduct charges. Reports will be made of motorists who fail to slow down as directed and those who insist on passing in work areas.. These offenders will be prosecuted.

The campaign will demand every precaution within the force as well as on the part of travelers. In this regard instructions have been issued prohibiting the transportation of portable belt conveyors and bucket-loaders unless they are lowered to the minimum clearance height, and special care is urged in the use of all trucks and machinery.

MELBOURNE. — When monkeys and an ape in the Melbourne zoo had their fingerprints taken by Detective L. H. Thomas, fingerprint expert, he found at first glance not even an expert could tell the difference between prints made by an ape or a large monkey and the fingerprints of a man. All the human loops, whorls and bifurcations were there and each print could be classified in exactly the same way as a set of human fingerprints.

VOTING MACHINES CANNOT "TAKE IT"

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 22.—So many candidates have filed for various offices in Uniontown and Connellsville that voting machines will be unable to carry the load. This statement was made today by Louis Williams, superintendent of the voting machines.

Willians says that Uniontown and Connellsville probably will have to go back to the paper ballots for the primary, although he has slight hopes that provisions may be made in some manner for the use of machines.

The custodian of the machines explained that 29 of the 50 rows on the machines will be utilized by candidates for state and county offices, leaving only 11 rows for the city office aspirants.

Brotherly Love In Philadelphia Is Not So Warm

Lack Of Harmony In Republican Ranks Is Said To Be Threatening Party

MANY ARE SEEKING OFFICE OF MAYOR

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—Hailed as a "national indicator of greatest moment," Philadelphia's coming municipal election today finds the long-powerful Republican regime greatly hindered by lack of harmony as it approaches its severest test of strength in nearly 50 years.

Since Mayor J. Hampton Moore carried the Republican standard to victory by 100,000 votes in 1931, the party has seen its plurality steadily dwindle to a state where the Democrats are even conceded a "chance to win this time".

The swing from the GOP became apparent when Herbert Hoover carried the city—normally Republican by 200,000—by less than 72,000 votes in the last presidential election. It reached a peak in 1934 when Sen. Joseph F. Guffey came within 3,002 votes of defeating David A. Reed in Philadelphia.

As the time limit for filing the September primaries expired, 19 Republicans had filed for mayor, 14 for sheriff, 18 for recorder of deeds, and seven for receiver of taxes.

Confronted with this formidable array of entries, Republican leaders prepared for a series of round table conferences out of which, it was hoped, will come an agreement to pool their strength behind one candidate and thus avoid a bitter primary contest and possibility of Republican dissension at the fall election.

On the Democratic side, John B. Kelly, former world champion oarsman and Roosevelt leader, has the unanimous indorsement of the Democratic city committee and the 50 Democratic ward committees. Although 11 others filed for the mayoralty nomination nomination, none of them constitutes a challenge to Kelly. There are reputedly several serious internal rows on among the Democrats in many wards, however.

Many Republican candidates for mayor are expected to drop out of the fight before next Tuesday, the last day for withdrawing. Despite these self-ordained eliminations, however, GOP forces at present are greatly divided, chiefly into factions supporting the three outstanding candidates—City Treasurer Will Hadley, Controller S. Davis Wilson and Sheriff Richard Weglein.

Among Republican "threats" are Judge Raymond MacNeille, former Mayor Harry A. Mackey and former State Senator Bertram G. Frazier. MacNeille has already announced he does not want the office but filed nominating petitions in order to be ready to step in the role of compromise "harmony candidate".

From the list of 19, Republican chieftains are hopeful of finding one man around whom the group of ward leaders and independent spokesmen could rally.

MARRIAGE LAW EFFECTIVE SOON

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Clerks of Orphans' Court in Pennsylvania were advised today by Secretary of Health Dr. MacBride-Dexter that the amendment to the 1913 marriage law requiring that no license to marry shall be issued until three days after making application will become effective on October 1, 1935.

Dr. MacBride-Dexter emphasized that any marriage taking place after that date, without the necessary required three days' lapse, would be illegal in Pennsylvania unless, as provided by the amendment, in case of emergency or extraordinary circumstances, a judge of the Orphans' Court authorizes the license to be issued before the expiration period.

BREAK THROUGH

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—The rivers of Pennsylvania, instead of circling around the mountains, break through the granite ridges. The Juniata river, for example, pushes its way through no fewer than thirteen ranges of hills between its source and junction, with the Susquehanna River not far from Harrisburg.

START DRIVE ON MARIHUANA SALES

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Recent discovery of several acres of the marihuana on the outskirts of Philadelphia again has intensified the State Health Department's activities against the illegal sale of this weed in the form of cigarets. Investigations are now being made in the metropolitan district of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, as well as in towns of lesser population throughout Pennsylvania.

"While Pennsylvania's control of the marihuana situation is now backed up by law, a real problem still exists to keep the illegal circulation of these vicious cigarets down to a satisfactory minimum," M. V. McFadden, chief of the narcotic division, said today.

WOOL CROP

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—The wool clip in Pennsylvania this spring totaling 3,592,000 pounds was slightly more than last year and the largest since 1918, according to the State Department of Agriculture. This wool was shorn from 479,000 sheep giving the average fleece a 7.5 pounds.

Power Company Claims Loss In Reductions

Pennsylvania Power And Light Company Makes Voluntary Reduction

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22. — The Pennsylvania Power and Light Company's voluntary rate reduction will result in an eight per cent loss in gross revenues on the basis of present consumption, the public service commission said today of the utility's proposal.

The proposed reduction, precipitated by the commission's formal investigation of its charges and financial structure, would in the company's opinion approximate a savings of $1,500,000 a year to 250,000 consumers in 27 counties.

Gov. George H. Earle yesterday urged the commission to accept the cut without halting its current inquiry, recommending the investigation into the company's financial set-up continue in the interests of "further concessions" if such are justified.

More Radios Are Being Sold; Shown By State's Figures

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—If the blare of the neighborhood radios seemed worse this year maybe it was because there were more radios.

The Department of Internal Affairs today announced that radio production in Pennsylvania last year increased 17 per cent over 1933, total valuation of radio products being $35,911,700 as compared with $21,763,500 the year before.

A total of 10,109 persons were employed by radio concerns last year in the state and they were paid a total of $10,918,400.

Marjorie White Killed In Auto Crash On Coast

Movie Actress Meets Death As Result Of Auto Crash Near Hollywood

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 22—Marjorie White, 27-year-old film actress, died Wednesday in the Hollywood hospital of injuries received when the automobile in which she was a passenger turned over after colliding with another car.

The actress, the wife of Eddie Tierney, vaudeville star, was a passenger in an automobile driven by Marlow Lovell, 25, according to police reports. Neither Lovell nor William Mackie, 23, were seriously injured.

Starting her theatrical career when she was four years old, Miss White became a headliner in vaudeville early in life, and married Eddie Tierney, her partner. She came to Hollywood in 1929 and was in great demand when the musical pictures were popular.

California Will Get $913,570 From Estate Of Rogers

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 22.—State inheritance tax officials here today had estimated the state and federal government would receive approximately $913,570 from the estimated $5,000,000 estate of Will Rogers, cowboy humorist and film star.

On this estimate the state of California would receive $237,270 and the federal government the remainder.

The estimate was based on the assumption the estate will be classed as community property—earned since the marriage of Rogers. On this assumption only $2,500,000 of the estate would be taxable.

Provided the estate is not classed as community property, the tax on the $5,000,000 basis would be $2,295,970.

Predicts Defeat For Roosevelt In Campaign Of 1936

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Enroute to his second political conference with former President Herbert Hoover in ten days, Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr., New York Republican, Wednesday predicted that President Roosevelt would be defeated next year.

Fish and Hoover had a secret meeting in Chocago on Aug. 11, a few hours before the ex-president issued a statement attacking the administration. He said he was eager for his new conference.

Asked if he knew whether Hoover would attempt a political comeback next year, Fish commented:

"Mr. Hoover will have to announce his own plans himself."

Esso Marketers announce:

ESSO MOTOR OIL

The Lowest Consumption and Highest Performance Motor Oil Made

Happy Motoring, so far as your oil is concerned, depends on four things.

You want an oil that consumes slowly, so you don't have to be constantly adding a quart every few hundred miles.

You want an oil that resists thinning in hot weather, so you can have engine protection; and that resists thickening in cold weather, so you can have easy starting.

You want an oil that—no matter how it does it—takes such good care of your engine that you dodge repair bills.

Finally, you want an oil that so lubricates all parts of your motor that you get noticeably better performance, quicker pick-up, more miles per gallon.

To give you these four things, the world's greatest petroleum organization had to produce what may unqualifiedly be said to be the finest oil on the market today.

We can prove this to you with all sorts of technical data, but it is far better that you should prove it to yourself by direct performance comparison in your own car.

Over a quarter of a million motorists did just this. We did not advertise this new oil. We stocked it at point of sale and in a few months so many motorists tried it, liked it, and told their friends about it—that our sales exceeded estimates by 288%.

Esso Motor Oil succeeded without claims or ballyhoo. It went over with the motoring public because, even at premium price, it saved money and proved its top-notch value.

Esso Motor Oil will prove this in your car. Try it yourself—today.

The accident happened near Greenville when the Barth car was struck by another car trying to pass.

Voters at the coming primary should go to the polls early, if all of them are going to get to vote, in the opinion of Registering Clerk Thomas Edmunds. This for the reason of a change in procedure under the new law. When the voter applies for a ballot he or she will first be given a certificate which sets forth that the elector is qualified to vote. This must be signed in the presence of members of the board. The signature is then compared with that on the applicant's registration card. If it corresponds the voter is handed a ballot. After it is marked the record is made on the back of the registration card and the ballot is then deposited in the box. All this will take time, and in the large precincts it will be almost impossible to handle the voters unless they make it a point to get in as early as possible.

Plaster Victim's Eyes With Mud

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—Three gunmen said, "Here's mud in your eye," and meant it literally, to Melvin K. Zimmer, 25, salesman, when they plastered his eyes with mud so he could not see their license plates after robbing him.

Zimmer's car stalled outside of Imperial, Pa. Another machine came up and stopped. Two men got out, the third remained in the car. When he refused to put up his hands as they pressed guns against Zimmer's side, they knocked him down and covered his eyes with mud. Taking his watch they drove away.

Some of the mud, however, apparently splashed in the gunmen's eyes since they overlooked Zimmer's money which he secreted when his car stalled.

HOUSE OPPOSES WIDE POWERS FOR PRESIDENT

Threaten Break With Roosevelt On Neutrality

Neutrality Bill Causes Serious Split In Democratic Ranks

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—As a break between President Roosevelt and congress over the Pittman senate neutrality bill threatened, the house foreign affairs committee was called into session today to act on the measure.

In dramatic and unexpected fashion, Mr. Roosevelt has brought face to face with a grave issue which may dominate the closing days of the session.

Advocates Worried.

The advocates of the bill say the issue is: Shall congress legislate to keep the United States out of a European war?

Opponents answer that the issue is: Shall congress tie the president's hand in conducting delicate foreign relations?

With the Italian-Ethiopian war looming and all Europe worried, an almost fanatical group in the house demanded immediate passage of the Pittman bill, approved by the senate yesterday, with provisions prohibiting the shipment of munitions to either of two countries at war.

President Roosevelt conferred last night with Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Assistant Secretary of state R. Walton Moore and Chairman McReynolds (D) of Tennessee of the house foreign relations affairs committee on the question.

Should Have Discretion.

Mr. Roosevelt's position has been that he should have the discretion to impose an embargo on arms shipments to one country at war and not to another.

More than 100 house members had signed a petition demanding the senate bill and opposing discretionary power for the president. Filibusters were threatened in both house and senate unless the Pittman bill passes.

Leaders in the house battle included Reps. Maverick (D) of Texas, Kvale (F-L) of Minnesota and Scott (D) of California.

The deep feeling on the issue was revealed as statements made to Mr. Roosevelt at the White House by a delegation of nine house members leaked out.

Roosevelt Warned.

One house Democrat, who has closely followed the president, told him point blank that if neutrality legislation fails he must accept the responsibility.

When Mr. Roosevelt told the delegation that he desired discretionary power to embargo arms shipments, Rep. Maverick bluntly said: "You ain't going to get it."

The Pittman bill, in addition to embargoing arms shipments, prohibits Americans from carrying munitions, and restricts travel in war zones.

As the demand for action spread in the house, Chairman McReynolds predicted the house would pass a bill giving Mr. Roosevelt discretionary embargo power.

Our Strange Interests.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 22.

THIS IS really a "cart before the horse" postscript to the article that follows: The part that follows about war was put on the wire in New York at 4 p. m. Tuesday. This was telegraphed from Cleveland three hours later, by the same writer, thanks to the airplane in which this is written.

Very beautiful view from this Boeing plane of the United Air Lines.

The pilot climbed up here, eleven thousand feet, to look down on the clouds instead of flying through. You never saw more beautiful clouds. A snow-white rolling "sea", with blue sky above.

The earth below, when you see it, looks "rather dull". You wonder, "Did I really live down there once, glued to that pale green carpet with brown patches?"

The Delaware Water Gap—through which you have wandered, exclaiming and "Oh-ahing", but what of it? Who cares for Delaware Water Gaps—or Niagara—or Philadelphia—drifting back east—or anything—except studying the great cloud castles. You could lose Niagara and the Delaware Water Gap in the courtyard of a small cloud castle.

Mr. Knoop and his co-pilot, Mr. Sommersmeyer, invite you to come into the cockpit at the nose of the ship, and look ahead.

Fine sight, you are flying into a mile-high wall of pure white clouds. If it were a dream, and not a reality, you would look around for St. Peter and try to remember your good deeds.

Mr. Knoop says, "Now, when we go down to the Cleveland airport in a few minutes, we shall not be able to see through these clouds, but we don't need to. We're on the radio beam now, and just follow it down." You digest that, and then, behold, the earth is close and the assurance that you land at a "gentle" speed of 60 miles an hour—seems a little playful.

This is the most pleasing flight your narrator has taken since he first flew with Mr. Kingsbury, of California Standard Oil, over the Kettleman oil fields years ago.

Right after Cleveland comes Chicago, at 7:03 p. m. Then change planes, and on via Kansas City, Salt Lake to the Pacific. You leave New York at 4:25 p. m., have breakfast in San Francisco next morning at 8:30.

Pilot Knoop cannot tell you how many instruments there are before him—"never counted." He does count—finds 22. He has eight thousand hours of flying behind him. It is all old to him, but he is afraid of automobile riding.

The stewardess - hostess - trained nurse, who is here to take care of you has perfect teeth, very fine yellow-gray eyes, and a green dress. You cannot hold her job if you are more than 25 years old, more than five feet four inches tall or weigh more than 120 pounds.

She says "supper is ready, we have ice cream." But this is Cleveland—and all out to stretch your legs. That 60-mile an hour landing was very gentle.

Now read the rest, if you choose. It's about the earth—and hardly worth while.

Thus run the headlines:

"ITALY BARS ALL PEACE TALK."

"BRITAIN WEIGHS SANCTIONS. WANTS TO KNOW OUR POLICY."

If she wants to know the policy of 90 out of a hundred ordinary Americans, and 100 per cent of all common sense Americans, it would be this:

To mind our own business. Let European nations alternately murdering each other and robbing inferior nations, attend to their business, in their way.

OUR POLICY now, with Italy swallowing Ethiopia, should be exactly what it was when our British friends were busy swallowing the land of the Boers, absorbing that country with its valuable gold and diamond mines. We did nothing then, why should we invent a special policy for Mussolini now?

MEN BARELY pay attention to events before their time, but Mussolini, starting the subjection of Ethiopia, might read in Gibbons' "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" about an Ethiopian experience of the great Roman emperor, Augustus, nearly two thousand years ago.

Gibbons says:

"His generals, in the early part of his reign, attempted the reduction of Aethopia and Arabia Felix. They marched near a thousand miles to the south of the tropic; but the heat of the climate soon repelled the invaders and protected the unwarlike natives of those sequestered regions."

THIS, PROPERLY, might be Mussolini's comment:

"No doubt Augustus, with his soldiers marching on foot, could not penetrate Ethiopian territory. Neither could he subdue and eliminate the Pontine marshes as I have done. New machinery means new achievement. As I have eliminated the Pontine marshes, and their malaria, a worse enemy than Ethiopia, so, with machinery, airplanes and tanks, I shall do easily in Ethiopia what the generals of Augustus could not do.'

THE ETHIOPIAN Emperor is worried lest his soldiers prove TOO brave. Ethiopians, it seems, are "absolutely reckless" in their courage and scoff at Italy's modern weapons. It is sad to think how soon exploding air bombs and creeping mustard gas will overcome that excessive courage. Macbeth, when he saw the ghost, begged him to take any form but that. Ethiopians may make the same request of Mussolini, when they see those airplanes and armored tanks spitting fire.

Courage cannot do all. A young Indian chief once lassoed the smokestack of a rushing locomotive. He had never seen one. He never saw another.

STRANGE ARE the interests of different men. Darwin with intense interest could devote 30 years to discovering earth worms. They chew up the soil, make it fertile, for us and our cattle and crops. That fascinated him. Montesquieu devoted 30 years to his little book, the "Spirit of Laws".

You probably have no desire to climb Nanga Parvat, a mountain in the Himalayan range, 26,620 feet high, yet Dr. Carl Wien, from Munich, will not be happy until he does climb Nanga Parvat, and will try.

Why anybody should insist on climbing Mt. Everest or Nanga Parvat, or the harsh Kanchenjunga, is a mystery now that you can fly over them and photograph them comfortably.

There is in man a craving for accomplishment, especially under difficulties. We ought to be glad of it, for without that craving there would have been no Christopher Columbus.

RUSSIA EXPELS foreign journalists for saying what they ought not to say. A Polish journalist wrote of alleged "cross breeding between human beings and higher apes', in Russia, and was thrown out angrily.

The suggestion itself is sufficiently offensive; imagine the Russians' feelings when the Polish journalist added that crossing human beings with apes was done to "improve the next generation of the Soviet population."

THE LATEST in war is "Germany's suicide ships," a fleet of speed boats of terrific speed, equipped with transverse torpedo tubes and 1,000-horsepower gasoline engines. Young Germans, that have no objection to dying, will be invited to join the "suicide ship." German authorities thinking on the greater part of the "suicide fleet", believe that the enterprise must be lost, but will pay because of the great number of direct torpedo hits against enemy battle ships.

DISTRICT W P A WAITS FOR 'GO' SIGNAL ON PROJECTS

A total of 251 work projects of one form or another had been written today by District 14 headquarters here of the Works Progress Adminitsration and laid before Harrisburg officials for final approval, J. Vale Downie, district director, revealed today.

While District 14 stands this week in rank among other districts in the state for the number of projects submitted, it was felt here that its ranking would soon be advanced to first. Twenty-six new projects were presented yesterday.

The 251 projects worked out by the local office constitute 2,196.4 man-years of employment and other district projects of the state highway department will add 2,350 more man-years of work. The total, 4,546 man-years, constitutes 36.6 percent of the goal of 12,424 man-years of employment which District 14 seeks to reach.

The state highway jobs which WPA workmen will do, Director Downie pointed out, will consist of widening, straightening and improving state roads.

The Works Progress Administration itself has provided work amounting to one and a half million dollars while sponsors have contributed work amounting to a half million dollars, or a total of $2,000,000 contracted to date.

Asked when projects will commence, Director Downie, his own district machinery completed, said "we must wait for official word from Washington."

District 14 includes Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties.

Wake Up Body's WEIGHT-BUILDING Process This Quick Way

Adds 5 Lbs. on Skinny Folks First Week Or No Cost!

Why stay skinny and scrawny looking when it's so easy now to correct the commonest cause of skinniness—IODINE STARVED GLANDS. These important glands actually control body weight. When they don't work, all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't turned into flesh. The result is you stay skinny.

To keep these vitally important glands healthy and normal they need NATURAL ASSIMILABLE IODINE. (Don't confuse this with ordinary chemical iodine that often proves toxic.) Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, provides it as nothing has ever provided it before. 1300 times richer in iodine than oysters, Kelpamalt within 1 week will show a definite improvement on even skinniest folks. You will feel and look better and have added at least 5 lbs. or the trial is free. Start Kelpamalt today. Costs little to use.

Explains Change In Live Bait Law

Only Three Methods Of Capture Permitted By State Fish Commission

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—Many inquiries have been received at the Fish Commission concerning legal methods for the taking of live bait from public waters for fishing purposes.

Stone catfish, minnows and other bait fish may be legally taken only by three methods. The first of these is with a minnow net not over four feet square or four feet in diameter. The second is by hook and line fishing, a fisherman to use not more than two rods and lines with not more than three hooks attached to each line. Rods, hooks and lines must be under the immediate control of the person using same. The third method is by a minnow trap, having not more than one opening, which shall not exceed one inch in diameter.

After September 1, this year, the commission explained, it will be no longer legal to purchase or offer for sale any bait fish or fish bait taken from the public waters. An angler desiring to fish live bait, however, is permitted under the new law to catch such bait fish or fish bait himself, so long as he does not have more than fifty bait fish or fish bait in possession at any one time.

Classified as fish bait are helgramites, crayfish, sometimes known as crawfish or crabs, water worms and mussels.

CHARITY SEEKERS WILL BE PROBED

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—The State Welfare department is planning a thorough scrutiny of the activities of all groups and organizations throughout Pennsylvania which solicit money and contributions for charitable purposes.

Tigers Increase League Lead As Yankees Divide

Tigers Now Lead By Seven Games Over Yanks, Giants Cling To Lead

By TONY PUGLIESE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—With the St. Louis Cardinals hanging on doggedly, it behooves the New York Giants to play the devil with eastern and western teams alike in this, their last long home stand. The spectre of concluding the season in the hinterland, and not-so-fond memories of the 1934 debacle, which lost them the pennant, has the Giants playing heads-up ball as the season wanes.

The New Yorkers took another close one from the Cincinnati Reds yesterday. After seven innings of runless ball, the Giants combined three hits with Gordon Slade's error to give Hal Schumacher his third shutout, 3 to 0, and his 17th win of the season.

Pirates Defeated

Across the bridge, George Earnshaw held the Pirates to six scattered hits, and the Dodgers whitewashed them, 5 to 0. The Brooks blasted out 10 blows off Birkofer, Blanton and Hoyt.

Dizzy Dean registered his 21st win of the year, 13 to 3, at the expense of the Boston Braves. Rip Collins, St. Louis first sacker, set a major league record, getting only one assist and no putouts.

In a typical "Baker Bowl pitching duel," the Chicago Cubs and Phillies fought to a draw in a twin bill. The Phils won the opener, 13 to 12, despite homers by Hartnett and Herman, and the Cubs retaliated in the nightcap, 19 to 5. A total of 49 runs and 79 hits featured the day's play.

Indians Split

In the American League, the Philadelphia Athletics and the Cleveland Indians divided honors in a doubleheader. Homers by Jimmy Foxx and Bob Johnson aided the A's 10 to 5 victory, and Lloyd Brown's four hit pitching blanked the Quakers in the nightcap, 3 to 0. Hal Trosky came through with a circuit clout in each game.

The Washington Senators found Phelps, Tietje and Wyatt for 18 safeties, and defeated the Chicago White Sox, 15 to 7. A seven run attack in the eighth settled the issue.

Tigers Win Two

In Detroit, the Tigers continued their trek toward the pennant by taking both ends of a bargain bill from the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 1 and 3 to 2. General Alvin Crowder limited the Bostonians to four hits in the opener. In the nightcap, the Tigers eked out a victory with a run in the eighth inning.

Out in St. Louis a doubleheader between the Yanks and the Browns developed into two prolonged batting practice sessions. In the first game, the New York club knocked the ball over the lot for 16 hits, to triumph, 14 to 2. Taking their turn in the final, the Browns slugged freely, connecting for 13 base clouts as they won, 14 to 3.

Correct this sentence: "I have no presidential aspirations," said the man who had been mentioned as a possible nominee, "and I hope the papers will say no more about it."

Golfers Qualify At Hershey, Pa.

Leading Golfers Of Country Entered In Hershey, Pa., Open Championship

(International News Service)

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 22.—Beneath cloud-specked skies, the third annual Hershey open golf championship got underway here today with the initial 18-hole qualifying round, first test of the three-day grind which will find only 60 of the original 160 starters left by Saturday.

After an 18-hole round today, the contestants, including some of the nation's outstanding links stars, for the $4,000 prize money—or the glory of winning for the more than a score of amateurs—will go around the course again tomorrow. The 60 best scores from the 36-hole totals will continue in a final 36-round playoff Saturday.

Sharp competition through the entire grind over the 7,017-yard course was anticipated on the basis of practice cards turned in by many of the outstanding contestants who have been testing the greens and fairways for several days. The consensus was that it would take a 284 or better to come home a winner.

Opening Team Takes Victory

The Opening Department team of the Tin Mill league handed the Assorting Room team a 8 to 3 defeat at Clifton Flats field last night. The heaviest hitting was done by Adams who clouted a homer, and by Gennock with a triple, double and single, and by Fleeger with a pair of doubles. Best for the losers was Bill Lewis. The Openings will play the Cold Rolls at Rosena furnace field Friday night.

Opening 203 300 0	8	9	2
Assorting 300 000 0	3	4	4

FLIRTING WITH FAME - By Jack Sords

New York City May Get Baer-Louis Bout

By HYPE IGOE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The battle ground for the Baer and Louis bout will be named today at noon, Mike Jacobs having decided on placing all his cards before the local boxing board at that hour.

Just where the battle is to go is Mike's secret, but all things point to New York and by 12 o'clock, I think, he will say that he has decided to stay right here in the old home town.

Moving picture and radio people were closeted with Mike most of yesterday. That delegation from Detroit was in and Mike emerged from the secret chamber, he was grinning like a cat which had stalked through a bird store and swallowed all the canaries! Must have been doing some high and lofty "trading" as he calls it, because it is only when the coin of the realm begins to sing sweet sonata that Mike grins on the level.

Detroit Bidding

Detroit has two irons in the fire, a staggering bid for the fight itself or a bewildering offer for the radio rights. Remember that Edsel Ford, son of the great car creator, was named when the Detroit committee was first mentioned in the news out of that city. Might be that his father, as he did in the last world's series, is out for the big broadcast in the name of the great automotive industry.

Chicago hasn't backed down one bit. Leonard Hicks, the leader of the Chicago hotel men, is a hard man to down and he was trailing Mike like a bloodhound for three days, taking one flying trip to Chicago for more ammunition.

Greyhound Sets Trotting Mark

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 22.—A new world's mark for the mile trot for 3-year-old geldings was in the records today.

Greyhound, winner of the Hambletonian last week, trotted a two-minute heat as he won the feature mile at the Illinois state fair here yesterday.

VOLLEY BALL RESULTS

The Reds remained undefeated in grounds by defeating the Whites 15-10, and 15-13. The Blacks won their first league game by defeating the Blues 15-8, and 15-8. Volley ball at Franklin high is drawing a lot of attention. For volley ball games call 9062 and ask for Fred Marcella. The Franklin team is coached by Tippy Richards, well known south side athlete.

PLAYGROUND GAME

Friday afternoon at Franklin field the Keystone A. C. Juniors soft ball team will play the city playground All-Stars coached by Frank Leonard. Managers Viggiano and Gallagher will send their speedball artist, G. Ross, to the mound. The cream of the young soft ball players of New Castle will take part in this game. The contest starts at 3 o'clock.

The Geneva College athletic management has completed plans for pre-season football training. The pre-school training will start under Coach Beede's supervision at the college on September 3 and continue for one week with two practices per day. College enrollment is slated for September 11 after which one practice a day will be held until Indiana Teachers are met in a night game, September 27, at Beaver Falls.

Small Squad

The squad will be one of the smallest that Geneva has ever convened, but Coach Beede feels that what will be lacking in numbers will be rectified by quality.

Bessemer Will Play Firemen

Sixth Ward Firemen Will Go To Bessemer For A Baseball Game Friday Night

Bessemer team of the Lawrence County league will have the Sixth Ward Firemen as their opponents at the Bessemer high field Friday night at 6 o'clock, it was announced today by the Bessemer management.

The Bessemers handed the Firemen a defeat of 7 to 3 at the Lee avenue field last Tuesday, it was announced, and the "Fire Eaters" will be out for revenge. Schaas was the losing pitcher in the game against Bessemer. Art Alexander will no doubt draw the assignment for the game at Bessemer Friday night. Puromaki will likely go to the hill for the Bessemerians.

The team—DeCaprio, Capitolos, center field: Nickie Ross, Radiators, roving short; Roberts, Tolans, second base; Mazzeri, Radiators, third; Vigali, Unions, right field, Merando, Unions, left field; Hill, Tolans catch; Biandi, Unions, first; El Lockley, Radiators, left short; pitchers—N. Tex Richards, Unions, catch; N. Bishara, Radiators, pitch; Frank Babs, Unions, pitch; Irv Rubeis, Croton, pitch; Mazzeri, Radiators, first; Sumners, Unions, second; Maki, Unions, left short; Turco, Radiators, third; Vigali, Unions, roving short; Jack Jones, St. Andrews, left field; Ambrosia, Radiators, center field; DeCaprio, Capitolos, right field.

Reds Ahead In Franklin League

By defeating the Blues, 15-10 and 16-14, Reds moved into first play in the Franklin Playground Volley Ball league. The Whites annexed a triumph over the Blacks, 15-9, 10-15 and 15-9.

Blues	1	1	.500
Blacks	0	2	.000

From the various teams in the circuit, Supervisor Tip Richards has picked a Franklin Varsity team. He would like to book contests with any teams in the city or county.

Pirrone-Randall Battle Tonight

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—Paul Pirrone and Tiger Joe Randall tapered off their training today for a scheduled meeting in the Greenlee Field ring here tonight.

Weather permitting, the two boxers will head a card of four bouts. Both fighters are anxious to win in the hope of being matched against Ted Yarosz in a non-title fight.

The semi-final bout tonight will bring together Carmen Barth, like Pirrone, a Cleveland battler, and Mike Bazzone, McKeesport.

Buddy Baer To Battle Doyle

Irish Tenor To Meet California Baritone In Long Island Bowl Tonight

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Jack Doyle, the Irish tenor, and Buddy Baer, the California baritone, are billed to yodel a six round duet at Madison Square Garden's Long Island bowl tonight.

Well, why not? We've seen plenty of waltzes in the ring—why not a couple who can combine singing with their waltzing? In other words, a song and dance team.

The fight mob along Broadway is so enthralled by the prospect they are prepared to stay away from the bowl in thousands and it is feared that the yodeling mitt slinger may waste their sweetest notes on the swamp-laden air.

Baer Favored

Some sour-pusses even hint this battle of the musical scale should be held on Barren Island which is the garbage ground of New York.

Others are frankly going for the deep stomach laughs they expect to get watching these thespians do their stuff. These comedy hunters are even better on the outcome at 13 to 5 that Maxie's brother Buddy will outyodel the Irish thrush, figuring, no doubt, that theatrics come more naturally to the Baer family.

Both boys are well acquainted with the tank circuit. In fact, some of their more recent rivals could easily qualify for the national diving title—with or without springboards.

Topmost Rival of Helen Jacobs

Stirring victory of Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold over Katherine Stammers of Great Britain, which kept the Wightman Cup in U. This time Johnson's prospects are somewhat better. He is on relief at the present time.

A LOT of talk has been going the rounds to the effect that Fleetwing DeWberry was being groomed as the dark horse for mayor of our fair city. The other candidates will breathe easier when they learn this is not true because F. A. has no aspiration to be chief magistrate or judge or county commissioner and is entirely satisfied in selling Fleetwing gasolene. However, he cannot, sometimes when the dough gets low and the 8 Dews need outfitting from head to foot, he cannot, as it were, refrain from wishing that he was an architect. 1t—6

Stock Market Is Firm Today

Bullish Demonstration In Steels And Farm Implements Helps Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Another bullish demonstration in the steels and farm implements, duplicating yesterday's performance, was outstanding in the stock market today.

New highs for the year were scored in these favorites. The rest of the list displayed a firm tone but gains generally were small. Uncertainty over last-minute congressional legislative possibilities was a restraining influence here, particularly in utilities and rails.

U. S. Steel pfd. sold near the best level since 1932 and Bethlehem pfd. jumped 2 points to the highest price since 1929. There common stocks exceeding the year's highs.

Case Threshing ran up over 2 points in the farm implements while Deere and Internationonal Harvester were strong. Minneapolis Moline was very active.

DuPont rose over a point to the best price since 1930 and other chemicals were in demand. While war talk was associated with advance here and in the steels, other beneficiaries like the coppers, oils and aviations did relatively little.

Motors Higher

Motor shares were slightly higher. Auto accessories were quiet.

Liquors staged a flurry under the leadership of National Distillers, which was bid up to within a fraction of its year's high. They quieted down later.

Rails showed tendencies to edge forward on the favorable traffic showing for last week. N. Y. Central ruled above the previous close.

Utilities started off strong, but slipped later on the new drive to get a holding company bill through before adjournment.

Phillip Morris was strong in the tobaccos. Columbia Pictures tumbled 5 points before support appeared. McIntyre and United Fruit hit new lows. Foods were quiet and mines generally did little.

American Telephone rose over 2 points.

Grains and cotton were quiet while bonds improved further.

Britain Ponders Steps To Avert Impending War

Cabinet Arrives At A Decision But Makes No Announcement Of It

WILL MAINTAIN ARMS EMBARGO

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Determined to avert war between Italy and Ethiopia if possible, Great Britain will maintain her arms embargo against both nations, it was officially announced tonight.

The announcement followed the special emergency meeting of the cabinet, which decided what measures must be taken to maintain peace.

It was stated, however, the arms decision is subject to change at any time.

Great Britain today decided what measures must be taken to avert war between Italy and Ethiopia.

A day-long meeting of the cabinet, which assembled in an atmosphere of tenseness unparalleled since 1914, was climaxed with brief official announcement by James Ramsay MacDonald, lord president of the council, that decision on a course of action has been reached.

He did not divulge what steps had been decided upon, but his announcement on the matter was clear and unequivocal.

"We have made up our minds quietly, clearly and coolly," the former prime minister said.

"We are most clear on what should be done."

MacDonald added that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, who broke his vacation in France to preside at the special meeting called when latest attempts to mediate the dispute failed utterly, was returning to Aix-Les-Bains.

Sham Battles To Be Started At Indiantown

National Guards And Army Regulars Will Combine For War Maneuvers

(International News Service)

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 22. Pennsylvania's citizen soldiers, in camp here with National Guardsmen from Maryland and regular army units, today were told by commanding officers the "whys" and "wherefors" of tomorrow's scheduled preliminary combat maneuvers as they continued technical military training of all kinds.

Massed to full wartime strength of 900 men to each unit, the guardsmen and the army regulars will join in sham battles over the rolling blue mountain sector here and at Mt. Gretna, putting into actual use the training they have been getting all week.

All the details of the warfare were to be explained in advance to the "rookie" in the front line trenches, a new policy adopted at this encampment to let the individual soldier know why he is ordered to make certain maneuvers.

Spectators Allowed

The sham battles will be preliminary to next week's mimic warfare in which the 15,000 soldiers here form a reserve for the United States first army stationed also in New York and New England. Demonstration areas have been set aside on the "battlefield" for spectators, an added opportunity for civilians to witness the movement of troops and firing of guns under simulated war conditions.

Chemical and gas warfare occupied the attention of a large number of Pennsylvania's troops as the training period prior to the mimic war continued. Huge clouds of billowing yellowish smoke, used in place of real poison gas, were loosed in mythical enemy positions which scouting parties earlier in the week had located.

And from behind this cloud, defending machine gun squads poured a hail of lead into the enemy position from comparative safety. Tests have shown that accuracy of gunfire through gas cloud is reduced to about one fifth of normal.

Once during the demonstration, spectators and the defending soldiers got a real taste of the effect of the "gas" when the wind changed and turned the smoke clouds back into the ranks of the guardsmen and over the demonstration areas crowded with civilians.

New Coal Bill Being Rushed

Guffey-Snyder Coal Bill Is Rushed Along As Adjournment Date Nears

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—A senate enthusiastically on the run toward adjournment today rushed the Guffey-Snyder coal bill forward under debate limitation assuring a final vote by early afternoon.

Test votes already on the record presaged passage of the legislation, providing a "little NRA" for the bituminous coal industry.

In only one respect has the senate sheared any of the original provisions from the bill as passed by the house. At the instance of Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, it ripped out the provision extending anti-trust law exemption to producers complying with the Guffy bill regulations. Sponsors of the bill said this made no great difference to them.

Efforts to cut the enforcement provision out of the measure, sponsored by Senator Tydings (D) of Maryland, failed on two votes.

Ex-Policeman Will Recover From Wounds

Mrs. Charles McCallum In Serious Condition In Hospital, Son Is Dead

EMPORIUM HOME SCENE OF TRAGEDY

(International News Service)

EMPORIUM, Pa., Aug. 22.—Domestic difficulties were blamed by police today for the fatal shooting of Charles Tilburg, 30, by his stepfather, James MacCullum, 52, former Wilkinsburg, Pa., policeman.

During a family quarrel, authorities charged, MacCullum shot and killed Tilburg, wounded his wife, Mrs. Luella MacCullum, 52, and then attempted to take his own life by slashing his throat with a razor. Tilburg lived only a short time after the shooting. Mrs. MacCullum was believed critically wounded.

Serious Condition

Rushed to St. Marys hospital, the woman was reported in serious condition. MacCullum was also taken to the hospital, but attaches said he would recover.

The quarrel preceding the shooting, officers said, took place in the living quarters occupied by the family in their small candy shop here. The MacCullums' two children, Mary, 15, and James 14, heard the shots and summoned aid. It was believed Tilburg was shot as he attempted to aid his mother. Mrs. MacCullum was shot in the face.

Romance Recalled.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 22.—Friends here today recalled how James MacCullum, 52, a former Wilkinsburg police lieutenant, many years ago wooed and won his wife, Luella Lambert MacCullum, 52, whom he shot and seriously wounded at their home in Emporium after killing his step-son, Charles Tilburg, 30.

MacCullum met his wife, a former nurse, while walking a beat in Wilkinsburg from 1914 to 1919. After his marriage to her he quit the police force and worked as a Pennsylvania railroad detective until 1933, when he resigned because of ill health.

The triple tragedy in which MacCullum attempted to end his own life with a razor climaxed a bitter quarrel, according to neighbors.

4-H Club Boys To Break Camp

Sessions Which Have Been Held This Week At Y. M. C. A. Camp Near End

INTERESTING SPEAKERS HEARD

Twenty-nine boys from Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties, who have been in session at the annual 4-H Club camp, which has been conducted this week at the Fred L. Rentz Y. M. C. A. Camp along Slippery Rock Creek, will break camp tomorrow and return to their homes after a week of interesting activity.

The attendance has not been as large as had been anticipated, due to the fact that clearing weather, following the incessant rains of the summer, found the most of the boys pressed for time at home.

In addition to a recreational program, which included swimming and other camp sports, there has been a period of two instructional periods each day, when agriculture, wild life, first aid, and other subjects have been presented.

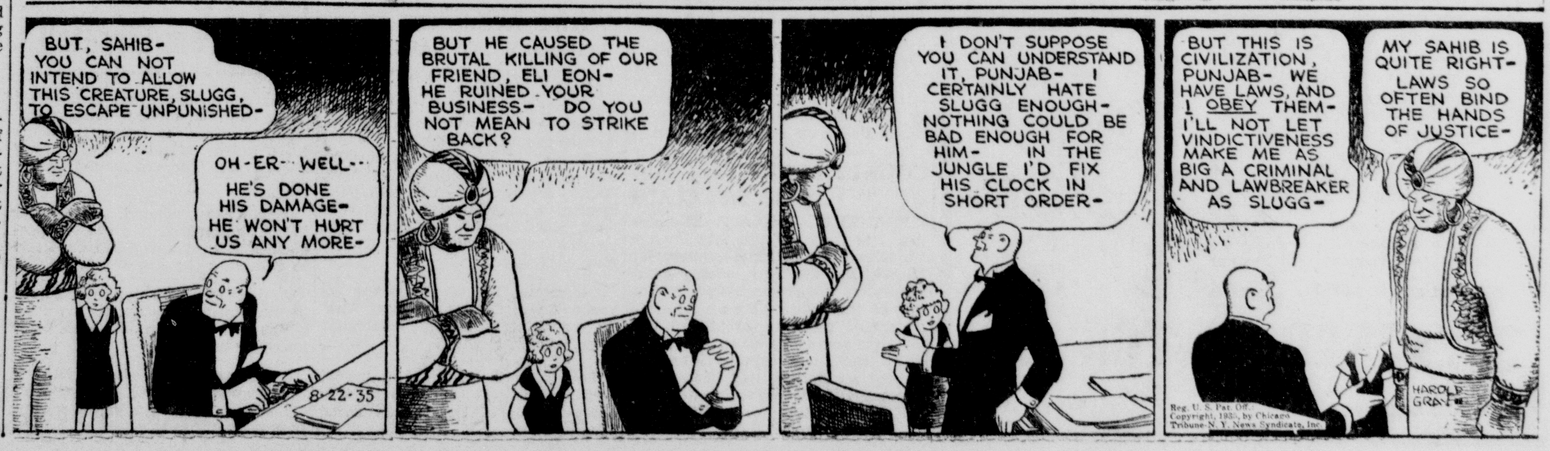

This afternoon, Harry Culliford of this city, Red Cross instructor, gave a first aid lecture and demonstration.

Wednesday, Chauncey Logue, of the state game commission, gave an interesting discourse on wild life, trapping, etc.

R. M. Gridley, county agent of Beaver county, has been in charge of the instructional work; C. H. Waha, county agent of Mercer county, and L. E. Bennett, county agent of Butler county, have been in charge of the recreational activities, while Harold R. McCulloch, county agent of Lawrence County, has been camp director.
